Mideast Calm Shattered By Jordanian Guerrillas

By The Associated Press

The banks of the Suez Canal were reported quiet today for the first time since shortly after the 1967 Middle East war. The quiet resulted from implementation of a U.S.-proposed cease-fire, the first step toward indirect Arab-Israeli peace talks. "The southern command reports quiet," an Israeli military spokesman said at midnight-6 p.m. EDT. Guns remained stilled three hours later, and the spokesman said the last reported activity along the canal was an Egyptian artillery barrage at 11:15 p.m. local time.

Shooting Fired

A number of rockets were fired from Jordan at the Israeli Dead Sea port works several hours after the cease-fire went into effect, a military spokesman in Tel Aviv said. There were no casualties. The spokesman said there was no information on who fired the rockets, but they were believed aimed by Arab guerrillas operating inside Jordan.

The military command said Arab gunners in Jordan wounded three Israeli soldiers in an ambush early today. The Israelis returned the fire after the attack in the southern Golan Heights of Syria, a spokesman said.

Israel's deputy prime minister, Yigal Allon, said in an interview on the state radio that his government would hold Jordan responsible for any failure to control guerrillas operating from her territory. "If terrorists or any other forces should renew attacks on Israeli villages and towns, then Israel would be obliged to invoke its right of self-defense," he said.

Announcements of the cease-fire Friday in Washington, Cairo, Jerusalem and the United Nations in New York prompted limited optimism for settlement of the hostilities that have existed among the Middle Eastern neighbors since Israel became a state in 1948.

Meetings Planned

At the United Nations, special envoy Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden scheduled meetings today with Israeli, Egyptian and Jordanian diplomats on mechanics of the cease-fire, which is to continue at least through Nov. 5.

They were expected to discuss possible sites for the negotiations—presumably New York, Geneva or Nicosia, Cyprus. The U.S. proposal called for the governments involved to name representatives for talks "according to such procedure and at such places and times" as Jarring might recommend.

Mission Reactivated

The Jarring mission was abandoned April 3, 1969, after 15 months of talks produced no results. It was reactivated Friday by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant after acceptance of the U.S. proposal was made official. Premier Golda Meir of Israel said, "We have reached this stage due to our military steadfastness and our political struggle. Ahead of us still lie difficult

"With all our profound desire that the cease-fire—and not only on this front alone—should be a first step toward peace, we remember that our road to peace is still a long and hard one."

She made no mention of Jordan. A cease-fire between Israel and Jordan technically has been in effect since the 1967 war, although fighting has continued on the Jordanian front. There was no new fighting reported today, however.

Amman accepted the U.S.-proposed truce soon after Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser announced his approval July 23. Israel accepted the plan Aug. 1.

"These were juveniles who said trains for merchandise," he said. "We've had a lot of trouble with them. They definitely weren't after dynamite."

Schumacher said 14 cases have been found, most of them still unopened. Some were abandoned in the railroad yard. Other cases were found in alleys some blocks away. Each case contained 100 sticks.

Single sticks, 18 inches long and 1 1/2 inches in diameter also were found scattered. Some had been broken out of their plastic coats.

Schumacher said the thieves, probably 12 to 17 years old, stopped the train by operating a device between cars that signals the engineer. He said they broke the car's seal and some tossed the cases out of the car to others who carried them off. The raiders were in no danger, Schumacher said, because fresh dynamite will not explode without the use of a blasting cap. Blasting caps, by law, are shipped separate from dynamite, he added.

The dynamite, aboard a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad freight train, was being shipped from Joplin, Mo., to White Pine, Mich. The Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad was transferring the train through the switching yards.

Judge Slain, 3 Others Die In San Rafael Gun Battle

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — A judge in his black robe of office and three men who marched him and four other hostages at gunpoint from his courtroom were killed Friday in a gun battle outside the Hall of Justice.

Two others involved in the escape were seriously wounded — a convict and a hostage assistant district attorney. Three women jurors, also taken hostage, suffered lesser injuries.

The drama unfolded during a midmorning trial session in the Marin County Hall of Justice, a blue-domed structure designed by architect Frank Lloyd Wright, 10 miles north of San Francisco.

Witnesses said an intruder in the courtroom brandished an automatic carbine and satchel of pistols, passing them around to three San Quentin prisoners.

The gun battle erupted when they tried to flee in a panel truck. Sheriff's Inspector Ronald Retana said it was unclear whether the first shots came from police or the escapees.

Encountering news photographer Jim Kean in the hallway, one shouted, "You take all the pictures you want! We are the revolutionaries!"

Kean, a cameraman for the San Rafael Independent-Journal, snapped off a series of dramatic photos without being molested.

Led Past Pressroom

Kean said the judge was led past the pressroom in the Marin Civic Center complex.

"They may have wanted to make some announcement because they were yelling to me: 'We want the Soledad Brothers freed by 12 o'clock,'" he related.

The so-called Soledad Brothers are three black convicts awaiting trial on charges of murdering a white guard at Soledad Prison last January. The slaying came three days after another white guard shot three black prisoners to death during a racial brawl in a prison exercise yard.

The intruder and three convicts involved Friday all were Negroes.

Deputies Take Over

On the ground level, two shotguns and three shotguns were used by Sheriff's Lt. Thomas Lightfoot and his group.

Lightfoot said McClain held the gun at Haley's head and cried, "Drop it or we'll blow his head off!"

When Lightfoot failed to comply, one gunman fired three shots over his head as the men fled with their hostages. He said they hurried to a van 300 yards away, then began to drive.

under the building's archway as some 100 police converged on the scene, Lightfoot said.

Shooting Begins

Asst. Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said he saw a San Quentin officer holding a 30-30 rifle run in front of the van and yell, "Halt!"

The shooting then began, but it was unclear who fired the first shot, he said.

Fontaine said he heard a shotgun blast within the truck as the shooting began. He said the judge's wounds indicated this was the shot that killed him.

Killed were Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley, 65; convicts James D. McClain, 37, and William Arthur Christmas, 27; and the intruder, identified tentatively by prison officials as Jonathan P. Jackson, 17.

Juror Wounded

Deputy Dist. Atty. Gary Thomas was shot in the spine and convict Russell Magee, 31, was shot in the chest. Both were hospitalized, Thomas in serious

'Cool It' In Laos, Russians Tell VC

SAIGON (AP) — Diplomatic

sources in Saigon report indications that the Soviet Union is urging a political settlement for the war in Laos, and has quietly told North Vietnam it will not increase its military aid.

The Saigon sources declined today to elaborate on the indications, but said they came through diplomatic channels from world capitals.

"Russia has told North Vietnam to cool it in Laos and pull out its 30,000 troops in the northern part of the country," one source said.

Diplomats in Vientiane and Saigon have expressed cautious optimism that preliminary peace talks now under way will eventually lead to some kind of a settlement, but that it will be a long process.

Sources said the Soviet Union is anxious to get a settlement in Laos for two reasons:

—The Soviet Union has an embassy in Vientiane and recognizes the Laotian government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma, whose adversaries are the North Vietnamese-backed Communist Pathet Lao. The Soviet Union is cochairman with Britain of the Geneva agreements that guaranteed a neutral Laos and set up a coalition government dividing power among the Communist, anti-Communist and neutralist factions. Russia backed Souvanna Phouma as the neutralist leader.

—The Soviet Union wants to diminish the influence of Red China in Laos and elsewhere in Indochina.

Sources said the Pathet Lao apparently had softened their latest bargaining position, proposing full discussions among all Laotian factions without the precondition of a halt in all American bombing.

Photographers Stick To Posts During Shooting

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) —

Two newspaper photographers were in the midst of the bid for freedom by San Quentin convicts that left four men, one of them a judge, dead after a shootout with police Friday.

"I was barely breathing, but I kept snapping," cameraman Jim Kean said after taking a spectacular series of pictures of an escape attempt in which a friend, Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley, was killed and three gunmen died in a shootout in the parking lot of the Marin County Hall of Justice.

"They told me they were revolutionaries and I could take all the pictures I wanted," Kean said. They led the judge past him in the hall.

Kean, 47, long-time photographer for the San Rafael Independent-Journal, said he sped to the court house after hearing on the police frequency radio in his car that there was some trouble.

"On a hunch, I ran to the court chambers," he said. "I went around a corner and there was this guy with two guns."

"Then I saw another man with his arm around the neck of a woman."

"Another down the hall with a carbine was covering several policemen and disarming them."

Kean said he had known the slain judge since childhood. Both grew up in San Rafael and their mothers were long-time friends.

Another Independent-Journal photographer, Roger Bockrath, said he was downstairs in a parking lot when the judge was taken to a van.

He said he was taking pictures from behind a highway patrol car as one of the convicts had a gun against the judge's neck. "One of them yelled for me to leave," he said. "I left, but not before I had gotten the pictures."

Sen. Hart Wants 1899 Refuse Act To Be Enforced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked today by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to enforce the Refuse Act of 1899, which he said can be a major weapon in the fight against water pollution.

This law prohibits dumping waste into navigable water or their tributaries. When written, Hart said, it was intended only to prevent sediment from clogging up ship channels.

Hart said the Army Engineers until recently did not enforce the law unless some obstacles threatened navigation.

He outlined the problem in a letter to Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of a Senate appropriations subcommittee that handles funding for the Army Engineers.

The Corps, Hart said, has now pledged to administer the act vigorously if adequate staff could be recruited and paid.

Dynamite Destined For White Pine Co. Stolen From Train

CHICAGO (AP) — A gang of juveniles stopped a freight train in a South Side switching yard Thursday night, stole 16 cases of dynamite destined for upper Michigan after breaking the seal of a freight car, but apparently discarded the explosive in disappointment.

Sgt. Charles Schumacher of the burglary detail said almost all of the dynamite was recovered and indicated police expect to find it all.

POW Release Aim Of Borman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former astronaut Frank Borman has been named by President Nixon to visit 13 countries in seeking release of U.S. prisoners of war in Vietnam.

"No goal is more important to my administration than securing the humane treatment and earliest possible release of all Americans held by the enemy forces in Southeast Asia," Nixon said in announcing the appointment Friday.

Borman, a retired Air Force colonel, will seek the help of third parties in urging humane treatment of prisoners and their release.

The President said this country does not seek to make the prisoners a political issue, and will separate the question of their treatment from the political and military issues in the war.

But he noted both sides are bound by the 1949 Geneva Convention on treatment of POWs, and said the matter is a question of civilized standards and basic humanity.

Borman, 42, will take a leave from his job as a vice president of Eastern Airlines. He will leave New York Monday on a commercial flight to Moscow.

Oldest Senate Member 'Goes Down Swinging'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The eyes of the Senate's oldest member light up like a pixie's when he is ready to launch into his favorite subject—politics. The words come like darts.

On Richard Nixon: "He rates very low as President, very high as a practical politician."

On crime: "I disagree with the administration over why the crime rate is coming down in Washington, D.C. People are locking themselves up at night. There's not as many muggings to be mugged."

On the House of Representatives: "The founding fathers thought the House would be closest to the people. It seems to me it hasn't worked out that way."

Crusty old Stephen M. Young of Ohio, the salt and pepper of the Senate, is bowing out this year in characteristic style, with a zest for pithy language, a strong-minded adherence to his liberal Democratic views, and a lack of awe for the establishment.

With 12 years in the Senate behind him, Young will retire at the end of this session. He plans to open law offices in Washington and Cleveland, at age 81.

Young said in an interview he believes the Senate has been an effective body in responding to the nation. But the House?

"The war hawks of Congress—there are more of them per square inch in the House than in the Senate. I'm no admirer of Mendell Rivers, who runs the House Armed Services Committee. I don't know of anyone on that committee who ever speaks out. On the Senate committee, we at least can speak out."

He has never been an influential force in the Senate—in the sense that he has never been a member of what is called the "club."

"I have never been part of the club or establishment," he readily admits. "I don't know why. It just seems to me I'm not. That's all."

Young is no admirer of President Nixon, but he respects Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

He might recall, said Fitzgerald, defense attorney Paul Fitzgerald said after court adjourned Friday.

"She was both a witness and a defendant and she knew that anything she said could incriminate her."

He said the defense believes that Mrs. Kasabian, the state's star witness, tailored her testimony to please prosecutors who have promised her immunity.

"Once she's given immunity, she might recall," said Fitzgerald, attorney for Patricia Krenwinkel, 22.

The defense is concerned lest the trial be completed before such immunity were granted.

Others on trial with Manson are Susan Atkins, 21, and Leslie Van Houten, 20.

A hearing on the immunity grant was set at defense request for Monday morning when the trial resumes.

Linda Could Be 'Free' Monday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linda Kasabian, who has told her story of the Sharon Tate murders after being promised immunity from prosecution, may walk out of jail a free woman on Monday when that immunity is set to be formalized.

Although the pig-tailed young mother of two is still under cross-examination in the murder trial of Charles M. Manson and three women followers, the defense wants her immunity granted Monday. They hope it will encourage her to change her story.

"Linda Kasabian took the witness stand in a dual role," defense attorney Paul Fitzgerald said after court adjourned Friday. "She was both a witness and a defendant and she knew that anything she said could incriminate her."

'Cool It' In Laos, Russians Tell VC

SAIGON (AP) — Diplomatic sources in Saigon report indications that the Soviet Union is urging a political settlement for the war in Laos, and has quietly told North Vietnam it will not increase its military aid.

The Saigon sources declined today to elaborate on the indications, but said they came through diplomatic channels from world capitals.

"Russia has told North Vietnam to cool it in Laos and pull out its 30,000 troops in the northern part of the country," one source said.

Diplomats in Vientiane and Saigon have expressed cautious optimism that preliminary peace talks now under way will eventually lead to some kind of a settlement, but that it will be a long process.

Sources said the Soviet Union is anxious to get a settlement in Laos for two reasons:

—The Soviet Union has an embassy in Vientiane and recognizes the Laotian government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma, whose adversaries are the North Vietnamese-backed Communist Pathet Lao.

The Soviet Union is cochairman with Britain of the Geneva agreements that guaranteed a neutral Laos and set up a coalition government dividing power among the Communist, anti-Communist and neutralist factions. Russia backed Souvanna Phouma as the neutralist leader.

—The Soviet Union wants to diminish the influence of Red China in Laos and elsewhere in Indochina.

Sources said the Pathet Lao apparently had softened their latest bargaining position, proposing full discussions among all Laotian factions without the precondition of a halt in all American bombing.

GOP Favors Classic Cures For Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has published its first "inflation alert," a low-key document that is partly history and partly a recital of its belief the classic cures for inflation are best.

In the view of its primary author, Chairman Paul W. McCracken of the Council of Economic Advisers, the key point of the 128-page report is the "historical evidence that inflations do respond to therapy but the rapidity of the response depends not only on how sharp the inflation is but also on its longevity."

This, in essence, is what the administration's Republican inflation warriors have been saying all along: The inflation of 1970 is hard to root out because it got so well established when the Democrats were in office, but it is responding.

The inflation alert pointed to several industrial areas where price increases have exerted heavy pressure on wholesale prices, particularly metals and metal products.

Nevertheless, McCracken told a news conference at the White House Friday, the inflation alert is not designed to put pressure on labor or industry.

It named no companies or unions, but said rubber contract settlements in the spring and cigarette price increases this year accounted for large shares of the increase in wholesale prices last month.

At its most specific, the report said wage increases of 15 per cent or more a year in construction can't help but raise the cost of building things, and that the prices of services have risen rapidly although "the opportunities for measurable improvements in productivity are often limited."

Despite the admitted slowness of the economy in responding to anti-inflation measures, McCracken said he is "modestly optimistic" about the fight.

But there was little comfort in another report Friday that wholesale prices, especially food, rose six-tenths of one per cent last month—the sharpest increase since January. Earlier figures put the increase at five-tenths of one per cent.

And the Labor Department reported unemployment rose to 5 per cent in July—returning to the highest rate in five years. It had been 5 per cent in May, then dipped to 4.7 per cent in June.

"On a hunch, I ran to the court chambers," he said. "I went around a corner and there was this guy with two guns."

"Then I saw another man with his arm around the neck of a woman."

"Another down the hall with a carbine was covering several policemen and disarming them."

Kean said he had known the slain judge since childhood. Both grew up in San Rafael and their mothers were long-time friends.

Another Independent-Journal photographer, Roger Bockrath, said he was downstairs in a parking lot when the judge was taken to a van.

He said he was taking pictures from behind a highway patrol car as one of the convicts had a gun against the judge's neck. "One of them yelled for me to leave," he said. "I left, but not before I had gotten the pictures."

Sen. Hart Wants 1899 Refuse Act To Be Enforced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked today by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to enforce the Refuse Act of 1899, which he said can be a major weapon in the fight against water pollution.

This law prohibits dumping waste into navigable waters or their tributaries. When written, Hart said, it was intended only to prevent sediment from clogging up ship channels.

Hart said the Army Engineers until recently did not enforce the law unless some obstacles threatened navigation.

He outlined the problem in a letter to Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of a Senate appropriations subcommittee that handles funding for the Army Engineers.

The Corps, Hart said, has now pledged to administer the act vigorously if adequate staff could be recruited and paid.

Pueblo Skipper Denies Charges Of 'Partying'

NEW YORK (AP) — Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, skipper of the Navy intelligence ship USS Pueblo when it was seized by North Korea in 1968, denies a charge that there was "party" of drinking on board the vessel.

The charge was made Thursday in San Diego by Edward R. Murphy, former executive officer of the Pueblo.

Murphy said "partying" on the night before the Pueblo's sailing led to a failure to put on board explosives and chemicals that could have been used to destroy the ship and classified material before its capture.

Murphy said Bucher tried to impose a work-hard, play-hard philosophy on others, adding: "I don't believe any man should try to force others into accepting his drinking and playing habits."

Bucher countered Friday that this allegation arose from the occasion of his promotion to commander, when he offered Murphy one drink to celebrate "but he wouldn't."

The only other drinking on board was for medicinal purposes and on only two occasions, he added.

To the charge that explosives were left behind, Bucher recounted a desperate search for explosives, although they had not been issued to spy ships before.

He did not deny Murphy's allegation of gambling — "penny ante poker in the mess hall" — on the Pueblo, but added: "I have never been on a Navy ship where there isn't any gambling."

Bucher is in New York to promote his book, "My Story," on the capture of the Pueblo and imprisonment of its crew.

Murphy has written a book also about the incident, for publication next year.

LIQUOR SALES

NEW DELHI (AP) — Despite heavy custom duties and local excise taxes, the import of foreign liquor into India almost tripled during the past three years to seven million rupees ($930,000), a government spokesman told Parliament. Despite all measures taken to encourage prohibition, the consumption of local-made liquor also has been going up, he said.

Fate Of 2 Yanks, Brazilian Aide, Still Uncertain

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay. (AP) — The fate of three kidnapped foreigners—two Americans and a Brazilian—remained uncertain today despite a reported promise from a captured guerrilla leader that their lives would be spared.

The Uruguayan government ignored a midnight Friday deadline set by the Tupamaros urban guerrillas for agreement to free an estimated 50 political prisoners as ransom for the kidnap victims.

However, Uruguayan radio station quoted police sources as saying that Raul Sendic, arrested Friday, had promised during interrogation that the captives' lives would be spared.

The Tupamaros had warned the government of President Jorge Pacheco Areco that they would "terminate this affair and do justice" if the ransom demand was ignored.

They had not, however, clarified whether their warning was a threat to kill Claude L. Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., former Richmond, Ind., Police Chief Dan A. Mitrons, 50, and Aloysio Marcos Dias Gomide, 41, Brazilian consul in Montevideo.

Vo-Ed Workshop Scheduled Here

Northern Michigan University in cooperation with the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District and the Michigan Department of Education will provide a two week workshop in vocational education to administrators, teachers and counselors of the Delta-Schoolcraft and Menominee Intermediate School Districts in Escanaba Aug. 17-28.

The theme is "Vocational Program Development" and the workshop will be concerned with pre-vocational experiences, vocational approach to all vocationally oriented subject areas and vocational guidance to students. Much time will be spent in program development in the subject area of the participant.

People from the Michigan Department of Education assisting in the workshop includes Robert Pangman, vocational consultant; Arthur Hansen, assistant supervisor of trade and industrial division; Miss Barbara Gaylor, supervisor home economics service; Mrs. Margaret Holink, consultant, home economics service; Karl Stearns, consultant, distributive office education; and Maurice Prince, consultant, pupil personnel services.

Arthur Neiger, industrial education department, Northern Michigan University will make a presentation in the area of pre-vocational experiences for students.

Gene Dahlin, vocational teacher education, Northern Michigan University is the director of the project.

The workshop will open with registration at 9 a.m. Monday morning in rooms 106 A and 107 A of the Escanaba Area Public High School.

The workshop is offered without charge, however if credit is desired, two semester hours will be granted upon completion of the course and payment of the college fee. The official name and number of the course is 598 Special Problems in Education (Vocational Program Development).

Further information may be obtained from Joseph Hampton, Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District Office, Gladstone, 425-6821.

200,000 Doing 'Their Thing' At Goose Lake

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — After a night's sleep induced by the monotonous pounding of acid-rock music, about 200,000 youths began their second round of the Goose Lake Park rock festival today, with visions of pot or popples, watermelon or wine.

Youths from throughout the nation paid their $15 entry fee for the three-day affair which started Friday. Like ants, they remained mainly clustered in their makeshift tents to hear the amplified pulsations of rock groups such as the John Drake Shakedown, the New York Rock and Roll Ensemble and Small Faces.

The Jackson County Sheriff's Department maintained a hands-off attitude toward the goings-on within the private park. However, Undersheriff James Meyers said more than 50 youths were arrested Friday—mostly on narcotics charges—outside the confines of the fenced-in 380-acre rolling woodland park.

Myers said deputies would enter only if a capital crime is committed, adding, "We're not going to incite a riot."

He said as many as 300,000 youths were expected before the end of the event.

Meanwhile, private security guards watched over the youths. A few more males than females, bathed nude in the muddy waters of Goose Lake. Boys with beards and girls in skimpy bikinis huddled over brass hashish pipes. However, the majority of the youths seemed to use their money to buy ice cream or popples, watermelon or hot dogs.

Hospitals treated a few youths for drug overdoses, but no one was reported seriously ill.

Richard Songer, 35-year-old promoter of the festival, kept watch from a helicopter that roved above the area. Black and white cows munched real green grass in adjacent meadows.

Safe Containing 880 Signed Checks Stolen Downstate

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A 500-pound safe containing more than $11,880 in payroll checks was stolen from the offices of the American Coach Co. in St. Louis in central Michigan.

The money and safe were discovered missing Friday, police said. There was no evidence of a break-in.

The checks had all been signed by the company and were scheduled for distribution Friday to 120 employees. New checks were issued.

The checks—in amounts of $80 or more each—were written on the Commercial Savings Bank of St. Louis and carried serial numbers from 11,851 through 11,970.

Police said they had no solid leads, but were continuing the investigation.

Boy Scout Camp Quarantined After Boy Dies

CIMARRON, N.M. (AP) — The 138,000-acre Philmont Scout Ranch, summer haven for thousands of Boy Scouts and their leaders, was under quarantine today after a scout died on a hiking trip.

Officials of the New Mexico Department of Health and Social Services ordered the quarantine Friday after an autopsy on James Morris, 12, of Jackson, Mich., who died Thursday on a hike to the Tooth of Time, a ranch landmark.

"Preliminary reports indicate death might have been caused by a communicable disease," said Dr. Bruce Storrs, director of medical services for the state health department.

"Tests are being run to try to ascertain what it is, so that appropriate prophylactic measures might be taken, in the meantime, the Philmont Boy Scout Ranch is in quarantine."

New Mexico State Police and Philmont staff members put up roadblocks Friday afternoon on three roads leading into the ranch, which sprawls over foothills of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains in northeastern New Mexico near Cimarron.

A spokesman said about 4,000 scouts, leaders and ranch staff members from throughout the United States are scattered over the ranch.

Ranch officials began late Friday to notify incoming groups that their rotation into the camp would be delayed until tests determined what caused the youth's death.

Fear Of 'Big 2' Flareup May Aid Peace Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fears that the Arab-Israeli dispute could flare into a U.S.-Soviet showdown may have played a major role in the new possibility for a long-term peace in the Middle East.

The Mideast opponents are said to be increasingly weary of the fighting.

And established leaders of the area could have rising apprehensions that militant Arab radical groups such as Fedayeen commandos might spurt out of control.

These are among the reasons U.S. authorities believe may have led to acceptance of the U.S. peace initiative—after numerous unsuccessful efforts to get the Mideast rivals to stop shooting and start talking since their 1967 war.

With the silencing of the guns at midnight Friday and the beginning of talks in New York under U.N. mediator Gunnar Jarring, Nixon Administration strategists have fresh hopes that the 22-year-old Middle East conflict may finally be brought to an end.

Both the Soviet Union and the United States are believed interested in avoiding a big power confrontation over the Middle East, and each nation has links to the opposing sides in the Mideast quarrel.

From the standpoint of the Mideast states, it is natural they would not want to become the site of a big power fight. Furthermore the Israelis are believed concerned over Soviet involvement with their Arab enemies—and the Arabs themselves may be worried about how dependent they may become on Moscow.

Pueblo Skipper Denies Charges Of 'Partying'

NEW YORK (AP) — Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, skipper of the Navy intelligence ship USS Pueblo when it was seized by North Korea in 1968, denies a charge that there was "plenty" of drinking on board the vessel.

The charge was made Thursday in San Diego by Edward R. Murphy, former executive officer of the Pueblo.

Murphy said "partying" on the night before the Pueblo's sailing led to a failure to put on board explosives and chemicals that could have been used to destroy the ship and classified material before its capture.

Murphy said Bucher tried to impose a work-hard, play-hard philosophy on others, adding: "I don't believe any man should try to force others into accepting his drinking and playing habits."

Bucher countered Friday that this allegation arose from the occasion of this promotion to commander, when he offered Murphy one drink to celebrate "but he wouldn't."

The only other drinking on board was for medicinal purposes and on only two occasions, he added.

To the charge that explosives were left behind, Bucher recounted a desperate search for explosives, although they had not been issued to spy ships before.

He did not deny Murphy's allegation of gambling — "penny ante poker in the mess hall" — on the Pueblo, but added: "I have never been on a Navy ship where there isn't any gambling."

Bucher is in New York to promote his book, "My Story," on the capture of the Pueblo and imprisonment of its crew.

Murphy has written a book, also about the incident, for publication next year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fears that the Arab-Israeli dispute could flare into a U.S.-Soviet showdown may have played a major role in the new possibility for a long-term peace in the Middle East.

The Mideast opponents are said to be increasingly weary of the fighting.

And established leaders of the area could have rising apprehensions that militant Arab radical groups such as Fedayeen commandos might spurt out of control.

These are among the reasons U.S. authorities believe may have led to acceptance of the U.S. peace initiative—after numerous unsuccessful efforts to get the Mideast rivals to stop shooting and start talking since their 1967 war.

With the silencing of the guns at midnight Friday and the beginning of talks in New York under U.N. mediator Gunnar Jarring, Nixon Administration strategists have fresh hopes that the 22-year-old Middle East conflict may finally be brought to an end.

Both the Soviet Union and the United States are believed interested in avoiding a big power confrontation over the Middle East, and each nation has links to the opposing sides in the Mideast quarrel.

From the standpoint of the Mideast states, it is natural they would not want to become the site of a big power fight. Furthermore the Israelis are believed concerned over Soviet involvement with their Arab enemies—and the Arabs themselves may be worried about how dependent they may become on Moscow.

Area's New Industry To Exhibit At Fair

Demonstrations and information about the product of Globe Trotter Corp., the Escanaba area's newest industry, will be presented at the U.P. State Fair which opens Tuesday, Aug. 18 and continues through the week.

Jack V. Knowles, president of the corporation and inventor of the unique and patented track for farm and all-terrain vehicles will be on hand to answer questions.

Globe Trotter Corp., with plant and main office at 800

1st Ave. N. in Escanaba, will have its exhibit and demonstration on machinery row near the center of the Fairgrounds.

Through Mud, Snow

Knowles said plans call for a proving-grounds track, a large photo-display board, and an outdoor movie theater constructed of bamboo. Auditorium-type seating, the most comfortable to be found anywhere in the fair grounds, will be provided so that visitors to the exhibit can enjoy a real "rest-break" while watching the demonstrations which are scheduled to take place every half hour during daylight hours.

A continuous movie projector will show rear-projection movies in color and sound, of the development and testing of the Globe Trotter track system.

Items on snow, all-terrain, and farm vehicles of the 30 to 100 HP size. These movies show tests conducted in deep mud at Michigan State University, in the frigid cold of the Magpie Trail, one of the coldest spots in Canada, on the sand dunes near Honor, Mich., the military testing grounds at Calumet, and in the cultivated fields of the central Illinois farmbelt, Knowles reported.

Another innovation that will be revealed for the first time at the Fair, will be Globe Trotter's new garden-tractor conversion kit, that converts small tractors into snowmobiles. By adding a set of Globe Trotter tracks in place of the rear drive wheels, and a set of skis in place of the front wheels, garden-tractor owners will now be able to enjoy year-around use of their vehicles.

Ice fishermen will welcome its capability of towing their fishing shanties to and from location far out on the big lakes.

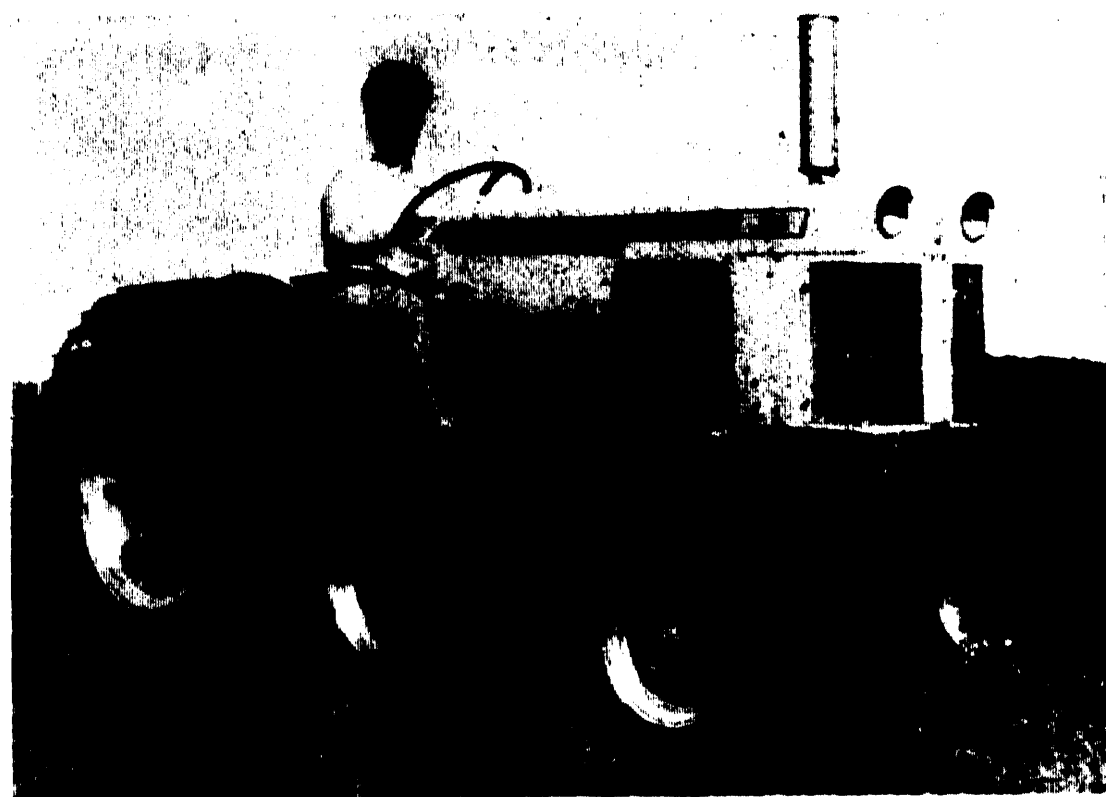

Future Product

Also to be shown for future production, will be movies of the prototype of the Globe Trotter trail-bike, a motor-cycle version of the track system that offers an optional ski for snow or cattail marshes, in place of the balloon tire for the sand dunes.

The ability of this trail bike to operate on steep hillsides and in rough, back country is outstanding, Knowles explained.

Visitors to the Fair can locate the exhibit easily from any vantage point, for it will be marked by a large balloon tied at the end of a 75-foot high mooring line of colorful pennants.

The Escanaba Foundation and the City of Escanaba, working together and with the Chamber of Commerce, made it possible for the industry to locate in Escanaba.

WRAP-AROUND VERSION of Globe Trotter Corp.'s track gets a try-out on this tractor operated by Mrs. Wayne Gagnon, the former Carol Larson, daughter of Llewellyn Larson, owner of Farmette Implement Co. on Danforth Road. Mrs. Gagnon knows tractor performance, for she's a farm girl who has milked a 35-cow herd, won blue ribbons for her Holsteins, produced 5,000 bales of hay per year for a four-year period, and has assembled and operated farm machinery. Below is the home of Globe Trotter Corp. in Escanaba, 800 1st Ave. N., the area's newest industry.

Toyota Recalling Small Vans, Autos

TOKYO (AP) — Toyota Motor Co. said today it would recall more than 885,000 autos and small vans in the United States and Japan because of accelerator and brake defects.

The company also confirmed an earlier announcement that 47,979 mark II models sold in the United States are being recalled to have their brake master cylinder system replaced.

The company said some autos have both defects, and it put the number of autos affected at 885,012 in Japan alone.

Toyota said the defective parts would be replaced in three to six months.

Today's announcement is believed to be the largest number of defective autos reported by a Japanese manufacturer at any one time. Last summer, Toyota reported that 520,000 Corona models had defective brake tubes.

Low Bidders

LANSING (AP) — The State Aeronautics Commission reports Regzone Brothers Co. of Flint submitted the low bid of $95,202 for construction of a fire, maintenance and electrical vault building at Flint's Bishop Airport. The Flint firm was the lowest of nine bidders.

Marijuana-Laden Car Gets Young Trio In Trouble

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Youths crossing the Canada United States border were headed for the Mosport, Ont., rock festival or the Goose Lake Park festival in Jackson, have had their problems on both sides of the border entering the two countries.

Three American youths headed for Mosport, where about 20,000 have gathered for the Strawberry Fields festival, were stopped at Canadian customs in Windsor Friday.

RCMPA constable found eight ($10) rolls of marijuana in their car. The three—Steven G. Olman, 19, Richard Levin, 20, and Loren Friedman, 18 — pleaded guilty in provincial court later in the day to possession of marijuana and agreed to voluntary deportation.

"That's at least three who won't be at Mosport," said Provincial Judge Gordon Stewart in sentencing them.

Voters Have Say About Lowering Voting Age To 18

LANSING (AP) — Michigan voters will decide this November whether they want to give 18-year-olds the right to join their ranks at the ballot boxes.

The State Senate voted 28-6 Friday for a House-passed constitutional amendment that would lower Michigan's voting age from 21 to 18, if approved by the voters.

Gov. William Milliken, who stood firmly behind the proposal already has told U.S. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell that Michigan would comply with provisions of the new federal voting rights act, which includes an 18-year-old vote section.

The governor added, however, that Michigan would comply only if a federal court did not rule the congressional act unconstitutional.

Army Prepared To Move Nerve Gas

By The Associated Press

The Army moves two freight trains carrying 3,000 tons of nerve gas rockets into remote locations of ordinance depots in Kentucky and Alabama today to make final preparations for their trip across the South.

The two trains, carrying 12,500 of the rockets, are scheduled to depart Monday on slow, winding trips to a terminal near Wilmington, N.C., for eventual disposal of the rockets at sea.

The sea dumping came under a new attack Friday as U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant said it violated a General Assembly resolution prohibiting pollution of the oceans. The State Department denied this.

However, in Washington, the House Merchant Marine subcommittee on oceanography said testimony had convinced the panel that this is the best method of disposal.

More people got more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Poverty Doesn't Breed Poverty, Survey Reveals

ATLANTA (AP) — A national survey has produced results to dispute the theory that poverty breeds poverty. The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare says.

The department released Friday the results of a survey by researcher Oliver C. Moles that shows two-thirds of the sons of farmers, laborers and service workers have higher level jobs than their fathers.

Moles said more than 80 percent of those who moved to cities from rural areas held better jobs than their fathers.

Downtown Chelsea Scene Of Blaze

CHELSEA (AP) — A fire destroyed an appliance store and damaged a half-block area of downtown Chelsea Friday night.

Officials said at least four Waukegan County fire departments battled the blaze in this community of 3,300 about 11 miles west of Ann Arbor.

Damage to the appliance store was estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. Other damaged buildings included a locker plant and a beauty shop, according to officials.

The fire was first reported about 11 p.m. and was out of control for about three and a half hours, officials said.

One fireman reportedly suffered a cut hand. There were no other injuries reported.

The cause of the blaze is under investigation.

Cobra No Match For Mike Seybold

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP) — Most folks who find venomous Indian cobra snakes in their backyards leave them alone. Not Mike Seybold.

Seybold, having no snake-catching equipment handy Friday, whipped off his belt, made a noose and attached it to a long stick. Animal regulation officers believe the reptile may have been a runaway from an illegal collection of snakes.

The officers thanked Seybold for catching the poisonous viper before it could harm anyone. Then they asked him why he took the risk.

"I knew nobody would ever believe this if I didn't have the cobra to prove it," he said.

Bids Too High; Runway Put Off

LANSING—Michigan Aeronautics Commission office said today it will try again to improve the surface of the old north-south runway of the Escanaba Municipal Airport.

The Aeronautics Commission rejected both bids on a project to provide a seal coating for the runway, taxiway and the apron.

Darrell S. Downey, chief of the construction section of the engineer division for the commission said, "some way will be found to make the improvements."

The two bids submitted were $9,986 from the Gilliland Construction Co. and $9,708 by the Yackey Construction Co., both of Alpena.

Downey said the estimated cost of the project was $6,276.

"We felt the bids were too high and that we will have to reevaluate the project or go at it at another way," Downey said.

He said the Commission had inquired as to whether the city of Escanaba could do the work themselves to reduce the costly building process.

Downey said that the City Manager George Harvey told the Commission the city does not have the proper equipment.

War Casualty

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Michigan soldier, Pfc. Douglas P. Atkins of Ann Arbor, was reported Friday by the Army to have died in Vietnam, but not as a result of hostile action. The Army disclosed no further information regarding the death. Atkins was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Varriell L. Atkins of Ann Arbor.

Russian A-Attack Warning Issued In Talk At Tech

HOUGHTON (AP) — "Russia could initiate a nuclear attack against the United States by 1975 not as a mad gamble, not as suicide, but to justify their desire to make the whole world adopt communism," Dr. Edward Teller, a noted University of California physicist, said Thursday in Houghton.

Speaking to an audience at Michigan Technological University, Dr. Teller warned that if the U. S. does not continue to arm itself, the Russians will have an overwhelming superiority in many nuclear weapons by 1975.

But Dr. Teller, who played a leading role in developing the atomic and hydrogen bombs, the U. S. stopped arming itself 10 years ago and "there is very little we can do in the next five years to catch up with the Russians in weaponry."

Airline Industry Endorses Superjet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. airline industry has endorsed for the first time development of an American supersonic transport plane.

Continuation of the U.S. effort to build the best SST is necessary if this country is to retain its leadership in aviation, the airlines said Friday in a letter to William M. Magruder, SST development chief in the Department of Transportation.

Some airline presidents in the past left the impression they opposed the program.

"The situation has boiled down into complete agreement with no airlines in opposition," a spokesman for the Air Transport Association—ATA—said.

The House has voted $200 million to start construction of two prototype SSTs this fiscal year. Senate action is expected this month.

One woman juror, Maria Graham, 45, was wounded in the arm. She was taken to Letterman Army Hospital, where her condition was called satisfactory.

Two other jurors, Joyce Rodoni and Doris Witmer, were treated for minor injuries and released.

McClain, serving five years to life for burglary in Solano County, was on trial for the 1963 stabbing of a San Quentin prison guard.

Whipped Out Pistol

Magee and Christmas were in court as convict witnesses in the five-day old proceedings, when the intruder whipped out a pistol and shouted, "This is it! Everybody line up."

McClain, with a pistol at the judge's head, forced deputies to remove shackles from himself and Magee, who was on the witness stand.

Then Magee freed Christmas from the custody of a guard in the corridor.

After a bailiff slipped out of the room to alert nearby sheriff's deputies, McClain telephoned the sheriff's office and yelled: "Call off your dog, pigs, or we'll kill everyone in the room."

They taped a short shotgun around Judge Haley's neck with the muzzle tucked under his chin, then headed for an elevator. They waved highway flares which they said were sticks of dynamite.

Over-Enthusiastic Golfer Loses 500 Balls, Faces Fine

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Joseph A. Castellucci was held in contempt of court Friday for failing to keep his golf balls inside his driving range and off his neighbors' property. The neighbors brought 500 golf balls to the court as proof.

Allegheny County Judge Arthur Wessel Jr. ordered Castellucci to pay a $100 fine.

A year ago, the court ordered Castellucci to build a higher fence on his Castaway Golf Course, Kennebec Township. Neighbor protesters, who sought that injunction, charged Friday the fence still wasn't high enough.

NERVE GAS ROCKET — This is the M55 rocket, like those that hold dangerous U.S. Army nerve gas stored in Alabama and Kentucky. The 12,500 rockets have been kept in 418 steel and concrete "coffins," believed dangerous through deterioration. There is a big hue and cry over railroading them to Sunny Point, N. C., for towing out into the Atlantic, to be sunk in the sea.

Pollution Tools

The Michigan Senate, responding to pleas from Gov. William Milliken and state conservation organizations, didn't take long after reconvening this week to flash the green light on another prong in Michigan's attack on pollution of its natural resources.

By a 31-1 vote, the Senate approved House Bill 4021, a bill which establishes a mandatory reporting system for industry which will require reports on all foreign substances discharged into Michigan waters. Proponents argued that if the measure had been law a number of years ago, for example, state health officials would have been aware of mercury discharges which contaminated waters in southeastern Michigan. The bill also provides for a surveillance fee on waste discharges to be paid by industries for state surveillance and, additionally, it will make voluntary agreements for pollution abatement between the Water Resources Commission and polluters enforceable to court.

Milliken said the bill "will make our water pollution control laws the most comprehensive in the nation" and that he has urged the president and other governors to press for similar legislation so that no state will be a "privileged sanctuary" for pollution.

Dr. Fred Brown, president of Michigan United Conservation Clubs, said the bill is "another tool to use in the fight against the enemy — pollution — in Michigan."

He pointed out that House Bill 3055, the Environmental Protection Act, passed the Legislature earlier and goes into effect Oct. 1. The law will allow individual suits against polluters.

The action to protect Michigan's water resources is significant, but it hits at only part of the problem and the next step by the state should be similar legislation on air pollution.

The smog over the east coast of the United States just about a week ago is an indication of the severity of the problem.

And every day there are more signs.

As a part of its daily weather forecast, for example, the Detroit News now publishes an "Air Quality Index" reporting on the degree of air contamination in the Detroit area. Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin introduced a bill in Congress which would ban the sale of automobiles with internal combustion engines after 1975. Japan suffered under smog for days with residents instructed to remain indoors as much as possible.

If House Bill 4021 goes a long way toward controlling Michigan's water pollution problems, perhaps a companion measure then should be introduced to cover air pollution. The problems of pollution are not limited to water resources. Legislative action should cover all bases.

Look Who's Fleeing?

For years whites have been chastised by liberals for moving out into the suburbs where people have space, life is less hectic and schools generally are better. Suburbanites have been told they should feel guilty for having "abandoned" the inner city, that they all are racists because they really were fleeing the Negroes who have been migrating into the metropolitan cores. It apparently never has occurred to most liberals that middle class whites also might be escaping from a rocketing crime rate and generally inferior services, like garbage collection, while paying ever-escalating city taxes.

Now, it turns out, Negroes are that way, too. They also are escaping the inner city in increasing numbers, something liberals apparently never counted on, which seems like a case of perverse discrimination. Why shouldn't anyone, regardless of race, want to improve his surroundings if he can afford it? Who wants to live in a high-crime district if he can move into a safer neighborhood.

The discovery of Negroes moving out into the suburbs has been the subject of two recent studies, both of which utilized data from the U. S. Census. The earlier survey was made by a University of Michigan professor who notes that "Negroes, similar to European ethnic groups, are becoming more decentralized throughout the metropolitan area after they have been in the city for some time and improved their economic status."

The second study, put together by a member of the Harvard Business School, concludes that more than 800,000 Negroes moved into the suburbs in the 1960s. The rate has climbed to 85,000 annually the last few years. In the meantime increases of Negro population in the inner city are beginning to fall off.

There is only one amazing thing about the Negro migration to the suburbs. That is that anyone should be amazed about it. If everyone is equal, as the liberals preach, then reaction to high crime and slums should be roughly equally the same — the desire to move to a better location.

THE FIRST STEP

Milliken, GOP See Hard Work Ahead

By DON HOENIGHELL

Panax Staff Writer

LANSING—Gov. Milliken blinked away the sting of the primary election and said Republican campaigners will have to re-gear for the long drive toward Nov. 3.

It was the most poignant understatement since Custer called for more troops at Little Big Horn.

Republican leaders in Michigan suffered an agonizing victory in the Aug. 4 primary, handed Democrats ammunition for the campaign ahead and watched a cleaving schism develop in their own party.

Milliken smiled through the disappointment and, tactically sought to take the news play away from the tight victory of Lenore Romney over State Senator Robert J. Huber in the U. S. Senate race.

"It certainly suggests that a great deal of work has to be done, a great deal of work has to be done in both the Republican party and among the Democrats and independents," he said.

"What really counts now is how we move into the fall campaign. My approach will be as I've indicated. It's going to be a hard-hitting, fighting campaign."

Milliken's task is to regroup the party from the conservative Huber split-off, help Lenore move against incumbent Democratic U. S. Senator Philip A. Hart.

Those are the extras.

He's got to fight for votes himself with State Senator Sander M. Levin, the Democratic nominee for his own job, by putting down early criticism that he lacks the clout of leadership in his own party.

Levin largely ignored his three primary opponents, zinging at Milliken on the leadership issue. The close race Huber ran against Lenore validates the charge for Democrats.

For it was Lenore — the wife of Milliken's political benefactor — who won a confusing consensus designation of Republican leaders in a series of meetings boycotted by Huber.

Huber charged that former Gov. George Romney, now secretary of Housing and Urban Development in the Nixon administration, engineered the consensus by calling in his political due bills from Milliken and U. S. Senator Robert P. Griffin.

And as he departed, Huber took a chunk of the Republican vote with him.

No Single Factor?

Milliken and his aides contend there was no single or identifiable number of factors. The conservative swing, they say, was overstressed by the light voter turnout over the state.

The governor said a series of stories in The Detroit News indicating that Romney was going to use federal housing funds as a club to force integration on the Detroit suburbs hurt her there.

The fear that existing institutions cannot control crime on the streets and upheaval on the campuses was also a factor. Huber's underdog role attacking the Establishment was another.

Three weeks before the primary Griffin and Milliken were plainly worried about Lenore. Shortly after, she switched from a general appeal to comment on the issues Huber had discussed all along.

By concentratedly down-playing the Romney name, she emphasized it. She stated repeatedly that she was her own woman, her own candidate, and would not trade on the Romney name.

Parted With Nixon She parted company with the Nixon administration on inflation, calling for wage and price guidelines, and only qualifiedly supported the President's invasion into Cambodia routing out sanctuaries.

Now Milliken and other top Republican brass is convinced Lenore needs help against Hart. And Democrats, impressed at the array, know Hart must campaign harder than 1964 when he defeated Mrs. Ely Peterson by 900,000 votes in a 3 million-vote general election.

Milliken, in his own race, said he wasn't surprised that Howell Publisher James C. Turner picked up 100,000 votes.

But Turner — bereft of issues except corruption in high places — was running without money, without high priced staffers and against an incumbent with a statewide name.

Milliken hop-scotched over the Romney problem by challenging Levin to a nonpartisan hiatus to get major legislation passed this fall.

Issues Specified

These issues, he said, include the rest of the anti-pollution package, drug abuse, and the $5 million no-strings grant and a $22 million utilities tax authorization for Detroit.

"I call upon the senator, as a leader of his party, to set aside — at least for this period of time — partisan differences," Milliken said. "It's going to take joint action."

The offer and challenge to Levin were serious, but the chances of either to achieve major reforms with a lame duck legislature are slim. Lawmakers have got to seek re-election in the fall, too.

More than 30 key legislators of both parties won't be back in 1971 — an important factor in anybody's plans.

The task for Milliken is a mighty one, but he continued to smile and pledge a personal campaign on the issues without attacking Levin.

Levin, armed with the softer issues, too, has also got the leadership issue and Republicans did nothing in the primary to lessen its sting.

Milliken during World War II got up and walked again after a German bullet felled him in his bomber over Europe.

Now he knows that there are bullets — and then there are bullets.

About the worst possible approach for a declarer is to adopt a defeatist attitude. Many mistakes made during the play can be traced to this one failing.

Most players who suffer from the ailment are not even aware of it. They fail to appreciate that the correct frame of mind in hands where the outcome is in doubt is to assume that the adverse cards are so divided that the contract can be made.

Moreover, it follows in exactly the same way that a defender should start by assuming a division of the cards that permits defeat of the contract.

For example, examine East's problem in today's hand where West leads the K-Q of clubs. When the oldest boy was 12, my brother married Bea. He had a pile of bills and the boys were spoiled rotten and hard to handle. Bea should get a medal for the way she pulled that family together.

Three weeks ago the boys' mother showed up. For 18 years she never sent a card or picked up a phone to see how they were. They wouldn't have known her if they passed her on the street. She had a friend phone my brother to say she was in town and asked if she could see "her boys." He said yes. Bea almost had a heart attack in the living room.

The boys looked at their mother as if she were a new neighbor who had dropped in to borrow a cup of sugar. The first thing she said was, "I'm sorry I left you, Bill, but you drank so much I couldn't take it." (You'd have thought she left last week.) He answered, "You're right. I was pretty awful."

Damaged Brain Aided By Using Electrical Unit

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) —

A Stanford scientist is using computer-regulated electricity, carried into damaged brain tissue on tiny wires, to make a monkey lift food to his mouth with a paralyzed right arm.

The experiment, which Dr. Lawrence Pinneo has been conducting for six years, holds promise that humans whose brains are damaged by strokes or accidents could regain some use of paralyzed limbs.

An application to humans is at least three to five years away, the Stanford Research Institute scientist said Thursday in an interview.

"We can duplicate simple body movements in a paralyzed animal," Pinneo said, "but we still have some way to go before we will be able to program the more complex functions. For example, we can make a paralyzed monkey move his legs, but we don't know yet how to make him walk."

The animals, he said, "are surgically damaged" for the tests.

Joining Ivy League Doesn't Mean 'Win'

Dear Ann Landers: A word to that mother who was heart sick because she sent her fine, young son off to the Ivy League and he returned a hippy radical. She blamed the school, his far-out friends and the new student movement.

Perhaps if that mother hadn't been so hell-bent on her son's enrollment there the boy might have gone to a smaller but less prestigious school and not felt compelled to take a point of view diametrically opposed to that of his parents. (They call this "rebellion.")

Too many parents pressure their children into situations that make them hostile and resentful. When the kids react they are "heartsick." When are parents going to realize not all kids belong at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth and Brown? — Seattle D. W. H.

Dear Seattle: Amen, Brother. And when are parents going to realize not all kids belong in college? To some it merely means a four-year postponement of facing the real world — all expenses paid.

Some high school students would be infinitely better off if they enrolled in a trade school and got a part-time job. They just are not suited to campus life as we now know it.

Dear Ann Landers: Eighteen years ago my brother's wife walked out on him and left him with three little boys under two years of age. (You read right.) When the oldest boy was 12, my brother married Bea. He had a pile of bills and the boys were spoiled rotten and hard to handle. Bea should get a medal for the way she pulled that family together.

Three weeks ago the boys' mother showed up. For 18 years she never sent a card or picked up a phone to see how they were. They wouldn't have known her if they passed her on the street. She had a friend phone my brother to say she was in town and asked if she could see "her boys." He said yes. Bea almost had a heart attack in the living room.

Dear Sister: Of course it's terrible, but there's nothing anybody can do about it. You can only hope Bill wakes up and sees that his loyalty should lie with the woman who helped put his life together. A mother who can disappear for eighteen years doesn't deserve a heroine's welcome.

What Do American Women Really Want?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments of a Pavement Plato:

What is it women really want?

This question has created a great deal of honest male bewilderment in the wake of the new women's liberation movement.

Among the stated aims of the movement are these: child care centers, equal pay for equal work, an end to job discrimination, abortion on demand, equality with men at every level, and a refusal to be treated as mere sexual objects.

While some of these aims are laudable, and some debatable, others probably aren't even desired by a majority of women themselves.

"I don't want to be put on a par with men," said a practical unmarried young lady of my acquaintance. "Then I'd have to do everything myself. I like the system as it works now. If I need something done, I can get some guy to do it for me."

What puzzles the average man most, however, is why women should want to be equal with him when he already feels he is unequal to them. Do they want to turn the clock backward?

The liberation-seeking ladies protest the chauvinism of the American male, but to the men of the rest of the world the American man is an object of ridicule for what they feel is his abject servility to women.

While he is still waddling around in his diapers, a little boy is able to punch a toy-stealing little girl in the mouth as if she were just another ordinary human being.

But in kindergarten he is taught that little girls are superior and extraordinary human beings made of delicate fibers. spanked into saluting them, and he goes on saluting them until the end of his days. The female sex gains an edge on him it never loses.

It is not men but women who have the better union in America.

A man is expected to light a woman's cigarette for her, leap to his feet when she enters or leaves a room, push both his and her way through revolving doors and buy her lunches.

A man is also expected to marry a woman when she wants him to, name his kids after her side of the family, and work himself to death earning the money to buy her a bigger car, a nicer home, more expensive vacation trips, and a better hair dryer than the wife next door has.

When he does die, it is further expected of him that he will have had the gallantry and foresight to leave her enough money so that she can spend comfortably, if not luxuriously, the seven or eight years of widowhood she will enjoy before joining him in his tomb—the one she chose, not him.

Does all this sound like he treated her like a mere sexual object?

What do women really want? There are days when the average man feels that what they want is "all there is—and whatever is left."

Whatever they want, men don't have it. They've been giving everything they had to women for quite some time now.

Opening lead—king of clubs. About the worst possible approach for a declarer is to adopt a defeatist attitude. Many mistakes made during the play can be traced to this one failing.

Most players who suffer from the ailment are not even aware of it. They fail to appreciate that the correct frame of mind in hands where the outcome is in doubt is to assume that the adverse cards are so divided that the contract can be made.

Moreover, it follows in exactly the same way that a defender should start by assuming a division of the cards that permits defeat of the contract.

For example, examine East's problem in today's hand where West leads the K-Q of clubs, then another club to the ace. With three tricks in the bag, the question is what East should return.

The automatic return appears to be the jack of diamonds, a nice safe lead that cannot jeopardize any honor West might hold. But actually there is no future whatever in playing a diamond, and to lead one would represent sheer defeatism.

Judging from the bidding, South is bound to have all the high-card strength he needs in spades and diamonds. Therefore a diamond return in effect is a give-up play. Declarer will simply take two trump finesses — which East knows will succeed — and easily make the contract.

Rather than concede the contract without a struggle, it is far better for East to assume that his partner has one apparently insignificant card — the nine of hearts. This is certainly not a wild assumption, since South would probably bid the same way with or without that particular card.

Accordingly East leads his last club at trick four — and declarer must now go down one because there is no way he can avoid losing a trump trick.

Damaged Brain Aided By Using Electrical Unit

MENLO PARK, Calif. (AP) — A Stanford scientist is using computer-regulated electricity, carried into damaged brain tissue on tiny wires, to make a monkey lift food to his mouth with a paralyzed right arm.

The experiment, which Dr. Lawrence Pinneo has been conducting for six years, holds promise that humans whose brains are damaged by strokes or accidents could regain some use of paralyzed limbs.

An application to humans is at least three to five years away, the Stanford Research Institute scientist said Thursday in an interview.

"We can duplicate simple body movements in a paralyzed animal," Pinneo said, "but we still have some way to go before we will be able to program the more complex functions. For example, we can make a paralyzed monkey move his legs, but we don't know yet how to make him walk."

The animals, he said, "are surgically damaged" for the tests.

Ann Landers Joining Ivy League Doesn't Mean 'Win'

Dear Ann Landers: A word to that mother who was heart sick because she sent her fine, young son off to the Ivy League and he returned a hippy radical. She blamed the school, his far-out friends and the new student movement.

Perhaps if that mother hadn't been so hell-bent on her son's enrollment there the boy might have gone to a smaller but less prestigious school and not felt compelled to take a point of view diametrically opposed to that of his parents. (They call this "rebellion.")

Too many parents pressure their children into situations that make them hostile and resentful. When the kids react they are "heart sick." When are parents going to realize not all kids belong at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth and Brown? — Seattle D. W. H.

Dear Seattle: Amen, Brother. And when are parents going to realize not all kids belong in college? To some it merely means a four-year postponement of facing the real world — all expenses paid.

Some high school students would be infinitely better off if they enrolled in a trade school and got a part-time job. They just are not suited to campus life as we now know it.

Leilani Norton Bride Of John Manzer Way

Leilani Jo Norton and John Manzer Way, both of Escanaba, exchanged wedding vows during a double ring ceremony today, Aug. 8 at St. Patrick's Church in Escanaba.

Officiating at the nuptials at 12 noon was the Rev. G. Kenneth Bretl. Bouquets of lavender asters and baby's breath adorned the church altar for the service. Serving as altar boys were Jeffrey Norton, brother of the bride and Jeffrey Richards.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Norton, 1230 S. 14th St. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Manzer R. Way of 1102 10th Ave. S.

Maid of honor for her sister was Laura Norton of Milwaukee and bridesmaids were Susan Greis of Escanaba and Susie Bibik of Detroit. Junior bridesmaid was Holly Norton of Escanaba, the bride's sister.

Floral Print
They were attired in floor length frocks of floral print voile over taffeta in shades of blue turquoise and white on lavender styled with smocked bodices, Peter Pan collars, long sheer voile sleeves and full skirts.

White picture hats with lavender ribbon trim completed their attire and they carried colonial bouquets of lavender asters and baby's breath.

Sheer, Taffeta
The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of white sheer over taffeta detailed with floral appliques and fashioned with a lace jewel neckline and long sheer puffed sleeves.

Her floor length mantilla type veil was edged with matching lace flowers and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and Lily of the Valley.

Serving as best man was Michael Verhamme of Washington and groomsmen were Michael Rings of Kalamazoo and Herbert Grandt of Kalamazoo. Seating the guests were Daniel Villeneuve and Jack Peltier of Escanaba, cousins of the bridegroom.

Flower Girl
Flower girl was Ruth Norton, the bride's sister and she carried a basket filled with summer flowers. Carrying the rings was Scott Norton, the bride's brother.

Mother's Attire
Mrs. Norton wore for her daughter's wedding a deep pink coat-effect dress fashioned with sheer sleeves. Matching accessories completed her attire and she was presented a corsage of pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother selected a powder blue dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories and she pinned a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ruth Norton, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Bert West, the bridegroom's great aunt, were presented white cymbidium orchid corsages.

Activity Center Advisory Board Plans Events

Sixteen persons were present for the advisory board meeting of Manomone Activity Center, incorporated, on Tuesday evening in Hermansville.

Plans for the Craft Booth at the Upper Peninsula State Fair are being finalized. Mrs. Harland Hanson and Mrs. Edward Wietech will coordinate plans for the booth.

On Aug. 12 a card party for the Senior Citizens of North Menominee County area will be held at the Center in Hermansville. This is the first of a series of activities being planned for the fall and winter season ahead. Tickets for the card party are available in various grocery stores in the Powers, Hermansville and Carney areas, as well as at the door the night of the card party. An invitation is being extended to the Norway Senior Citizens to attend the party.

Ray LaPorte, Community Action director of Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties, attended the meeting. He explained that there is an amount of money left of the original grant which will end on Sept. 30. He is hopeful that the balance can be extended to continue the operations of the Activity Center until such time that it can become self-supporting. LaPorte will contact the OEO Regional Office to learn if this is possible.

Jim Dinerstein, Community Program Developer of the Community Action Agency, spoke on some technical changes which are necessary in the articles of incorporation.

Mrs. Gladys Sutherland, craft instructor, reported on the progress at the center and made several recommendations regarding the operations of the center. The next meeting is planned for Aug. 25.

Laraine Day Enjoys Her 'Square Job'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In San Antonio it's a minipark with playground, baseball diamond and floodlight . . . in Des Moines, a $40,000 youth clubhouse . . . in Bellingham, Wash., a refuge for mentally retarded.

And what reward besides satisfaction is there for the real estate agents who sponsor such good works across the country? Praise and plaques from an earnest, attractive Laraine Day.

She's the ambassador who presents official commendations from the National Association of Real Estate Boards for accomplishments in its Make America Better program.

"It's a square job but beautiful," said the actress. "After all, how often do you get a chance to be nice all the time? To express appreciation for the good things people do?"

Realtors launched Make America Better early in 1968 to counteract incidents of violence and destruction. Their association says hundreds of local boards and thousands of members are participating in activities ranging from housing for the elderly and poor to fighting crime and delinquency.

The smiling Miss Day, who since March has presented plaques to governors and mayors and made speeches in six cities, said:

"In Dubuque, high school boys, with the help of unions, built a house that will be sold for something like $24,500, with the proceeds going to scholarships and vocational training."

"In Virginia, a big contractor built low-income housing projects after Realtors brought in speakers from Washington to point out it's just as profitable to build low-income as luxury housing."

Amarillo and Dallas have instituted antidrug-abuse programs in high schools, she said. Detroit Realtors went door-to-door to avert panic selling when Negro families moved into a white area. Many cities have campaigns to combat strong-arm robberies by keeping high-crime neighborhoods well lighted.

Mrs. Day ex-wife of baseball's Leo Durocher, is busy otherwise as mother of two lively daughters, Dana, 7, and Gigi, 5, by her present husband, show producer Michel Griliches.

With her former movie stand-in, she also has a dress business operated by appointment only from the stand-in's home.

Garage Can Be Summer Playroom

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

In summer, many families convert the garage to a game room, television room or chic lounging area that can provide a lot of fun and privacy. The car is locked out.

Some people like the idea so well, they may find a permanent place for the car and use the garage as an extra room all the year.

One delightful patio in a one-car garage is an example of the possibilities offered by a seldom-used garage.

At this house, nearby shopping centers made the car almost useless.

The small house is sandwiched between two houses and is about eight feet from the road on a non-conforming lane in a busy town.

The owners erected a tall fence of saplings on three sides with a gate. Concrete was then poured inside the garage and in the area to the fence. The interior of the garage was then painted white and a few bookshelves were put on a wall. An old chest was painted white and used under the bookshelves to store some china and glasses. Three old wicker pieces, a sofa and two chairs, were painted pale yellow and three colorfully-patterned and washable cushions were added. A small metal coffee table with a glass top was painted white and was set on a yellow washable rug. Behind the sofa, a narrow table painted white with four white chairs provided a dining area.

Two lights are on either side of the garage entrance, but small inexpensive hurricane lamps with candles provide adequate light, and romanticize the setting in the evening.

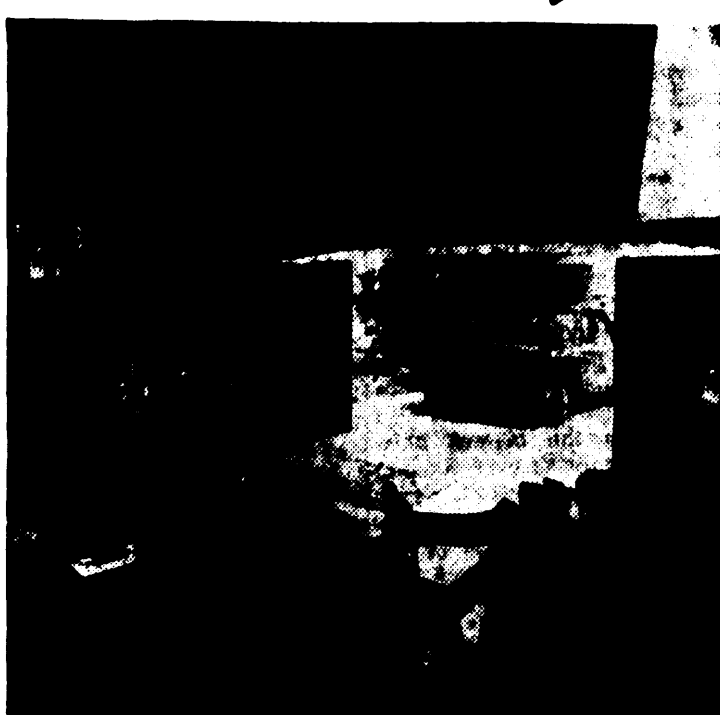

If a garage is to be used all the year, a window should be installed. Outdoor light makes a big difference during the day.

In suburban and country areas where only one car is stored in a two-car garage, people put the other side to good use. One older couple set up the area for complete relaxation with a partition dividing the car side and their own lounge area. A few small bookshelves hold books, games and cards. There is a television set, a card table, folding chairs, an electric fan, several comfortable chairs and lamps. A salad bowl holds yarn and needlework.

Many people have found intriguing answers to summer garage conversion, report the garage door system installers for one company. In Cleveland, they spotted a portable rug of artificial grass on a garage floor. The object was to improve the putting of the man of the house, but the green grass improved the patio look, they pointed out, and would be a pretty addition to any garage patio.

Some people prefer to use

SOMETIME PATIO — Put the car outside the live it up in the garage during hot weather. In this setting the "genie" automatic doors are rolled back for ventilation, a few screens are placed at the door and the man of the family relaxes.

the garage floor for shuffle board, hop scotch and other games, moving the furniture back during such times, the garage lookers say.

Other ideas they have noted include these:

Standing screens or portable room dividers placed in front of garage doors to insure more privacy.

Ping pong tables doubling as picnic tables.

Insect traps used to discourage bugs.

Barbecue-cooking in garages that have cross-ventilation.

Leilani Norton Bride Of John Manzer Way

Leilani Jo Norton and John Manzer Way, both of Escanaba, exchanged wedding vows during a double ring ceremony today, Aug. 8 at St. Patrick's Church in Escanaba.

Officiating at the nuptials at 12 noon was the Rev. G. Kenneth Bretl. Bouquets of lavender asters and baby's breath adorned the church altar for the service. Serving as altar boys were Jeffrey Norton, brother of the bride and Jeffrey Richards.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Norton, 1230 S. 14th St. and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Manzer R. Way of 1102 10th Ave. S.

Maid of honor for her sister was Laura Norton of Milwaukee and bridesmaids were Susan Greis of Escanaba and Susie Bibik of Detroit. Junior bridesmaid was Holly Norton of Escanaba, the bride's sister.

Floral Print
They were attired in floor length frocks of floral print voile over taffeta in shades of blue turquoise and white on lavender styled with smocked bodices, Peter Pan collars, long sheer voile sleeves and full skirts.

White picture hats with lavender ribbon trim completed their attire and they carried colonial bouquets of lavender asters and baby's breath.

Sheer, Taffeta
The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of white sheer over taffeta detailing with floral appliques and fashioned with a lace jewel neckline and long sheer puffed sleeves.

Her floor length mantilla type veil was edged with matching lace flowers and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis and Lily of the Valley.

Serving as best man was Michael Verhamme of Washington and groomsmen were Michael Rings of Kalamazoo and Herbert Grandt of Kalamazoo. Seating the guests were Daniel Villeneuve and Jack Peltier of Escanaba, cousins of the bridegroom.

Flower Girl
Flower girl was Ruth Norton, the bride's sister and she carried a basket filled with summer flowers. Carrying the rings was Scott Norton, the bride's brother.

Mother's Attire
Mrs. Norton wore for her daughter's wedding a deep pink coat-effect dress fashioned with sheer sleeves. Matching accessories completed her attire and she was presented a corsage of pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother selected a powder blue dress and coat ensemble with matching accessories and she pinned a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ruth Norton, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Bert Vest, the bridegroom's great aunt, were presented white cymbidium orchid corsages.

Reception
The reception is being held this afternoon and evening from 4 to 8 at the Dells Supper Club and assisting with duties are Mary Ruth Sigan, Jill and Janet Burroughs of Gladstone, Mary, Susan and Ann Peltier of Milwaukee, Mrs. Herbert Grandt and Mrs. Michael Rings of Kalamazoo. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bridegroom's parents Friday evening in the King George Room of the House of Ludington.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside in Kalamazoo. The bride attended Bay de Noc Community College and Northern Michigan University and Mr. Way is a senior at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo. He will graduate in the spring of 1971.

Garage Can Be Summer Playroom
By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer
In summer, many families convert the garage to a game room, television room or chic lounging area that can provide a lot of fun and privacy. The car is locked out.

Some people like the idea so well, they may find a permanent place for the car and use the garage as an extra room all the year.

One delightful patio in a one-car garage is an example of the possibilities offered by a seldom-used garage.

At this house, nearby shopping centers made the car almost useless.

The small house is sandwiched between two houses and is about eight feet from the road on a non-conforming lane in a busy town.

The owners erected a tall fence of saplings on three sides with a gate. Concrete was then poured inside the garage and in the area to the fence. The interior of the garage was then painted white and a few bookshelves were put on a wall. An old chest was painted white and used under the bookshelves to store some china and glasses. Three old wicker pieces, a sofa and two chairs, were painted pale yellow and three colorfully-patterned and washable cushions were added. A small metal coffee table with a glass top was painted white and was set on a yellow washable rug. Behind the sofa, a narrow table painted white with four white chairs provided a dining area.

Two lights are on either side of the garage entrance, but small inexpensive hurricane lamps with candles provide adequate light, and romanticize the setting in the evening.

If a garage is to be used all the year, a window should be installed. Outdoor light makes a big difference during the day.

In suburban and country areas where only one car is stored in a two-car garage, people put the other side to good use. One older couple set up the area for complete relaxation with a partition dividing the car side and their own lounge area. A few small bookshelves hold books, games and cards. There is a television set, a card table, folding chairs, an electric fan, several comfortable chairs and lamps. A salad bowl holds yarn and needlework.

Many people have found intriguing answers to summer garage conversion, report the garage door system installers for one company. In Cleveland, they spotted a portable rug of artificial grass on a garage floor. The object was to improve the putting of the man of the house, but the green grass improved the patio look, they pointed out, and would be a pretty addition to any garage patio.

Some people prefer to use the garage floor for shuffle board, hop scotch and other games, moving the furniture back during such times, the garage lookers say.

Other ideas they have noted include these:

Standing screens or portable room dividers placed in front of garage doors to insure more privacy.

Ping pong tables doubling as picnic tables.

Insect traps used to discourage bugs.

Barbecue-cooking in garages that have cross-ventilation.

A garage patio can help the family keep its cool in summer, and it can be a haven for every member of the family. In one household, young people have the run of the patio during the day, and on certain evenings. At night, usually, the parents take it over, and enjoy having conversation and libation at their leisure.

Activity Center Advisory Board Plans Events
Sixteen persons were present for the advisory board meeting of Menominee Activity Center, incorporated, on Tuesday evening in Hermansville.

Plans for the Craft Booth at the Upper Peninsula State Fair are being finalized. Mrs. Harold Hanson and Mrs. Edward Wicich will coordinate plans for the booth.

On Aug. 12 a card party for the Senior Citizens of North Menominee County area will be held at the Center in Hermansville. This is the first of a series of activities being planned for the fall and winter season ahead. Tickets for the card party are available in various grocery stores in the Powers, Hermansville and Carney area, as well as at the door the night of the card party. An invitation is being extended to the Norway Senior Citizens to attend the party.

Ray LaPorte, Community Action director of Delta, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties, attended the meeting. He explained that there is an amount of money left of the original grant which will end on Sept. 30. He is hopeful that the balance can be extended to continue the operations of the Activity Center until such time that it can become self-supporting. LaPorte will contact the OEO Regional Office to learn if this is possible.

Jim Dinerstein, Community Program Developer of the Community Action Agency, spoke on some technical changes which are necessary in the articles of incorporation.

Mrs. Gladys Sutherland, craft instructor, reported on the progress at the center and made several recommendations regarding the operations of the center. The next meeting is planned for Aug. 25.

MANISTIQUE

Vocational Training Plan Funds Recieved

The Manistique Area Schools have received funding approval for a vocational skill training program which will place students in local businesses where they will be trained in special skills under actual job conditions.

The program is not an "on-the-job" training set-up. Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle said, since the students will not be paid for their work.

The funding will be used in contracting with local firms for use of their personnel and facilities in teaching students such special skills as baking, radio announcing, auto parts work, butchering, printing and various food service occupations.

The three-year program will begin next month and is one of nine state-wide projects approved by the State Department of Education as an "exemplary vocational education project." Wuehle said he was "excited about the possibilities of the program which means students will be working and learning with persons who have already acquired job skills and perfected them with years of experience."

"By using local businesses as classrooms and local craftsmen as instructors we take advantage of existing facilities and eliminate the need for the school to duplicate costly equipment and expensive personnel," he continued.

"At the same time, the program benefits the business since it helps develop a reservoir of trained people and should eliminate the often expensive necessity of hiring untrained personnel and training them from scratch," he added.

In the project application, filed June 1 of this year, Wuehle noted that in high schools with less than 1500 enrollment certain specific occupational skills are totally ignored due to lack of financial resources, lack of number of students who can participate in skill training programs, lack of equipment, inadequate housing for equipment and lack of personnel. He added this district hoped to provide skill training for 25-30 students each semester.

First year cost of the project was estimated at $21,765 with ten per cent local contribution; $22,882, second year with 12 per cent local cost; and $23,276 and 14 per cent for third year operation. However, these per year budgetary estimates will have to be adjusted downward to accommodate the needs of the nine projects in the $200,000 project allocation, according to the letter Wuehle received from John W. Porter, acting superintendent of public instruction.

Stanley D. Arnold has been named project director. He has been teaching commercial subjects in the high school for the past four years and before that taught four years in Nahma High School, including one year as principal.

A graduate of Manistique High School, the 32-year old Arnold holds a B.A. from Austin Peay State University, Clarksville, Tenn., with majors in business education and history. He also has a provisional vocational certificate and had had considerable experience in various job occupations. He is also 1970-71 coordinator of the Office Education Cooperative Programs in the local district.

Local businessmen were surveyed to determine their interest in the project and the number of students they could handle on a contracted payment basis. The following businesses will be involved in the project:

The Surf and Fireside restaurants; Radio Station WTIC; Norden's Foodland meat department; Linderoth Auto Sales; the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune; Ken's Bakery and Lawrence Gas and Appliance Company in Germfask.

Tickets for the Manistique Community Players' "Mary, Mary" presentation are on sale at the State Savings Bank and its new westside branch office and at various business places.

Tickets are priced at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students. They will also be available at the Manistique High School auditorium when the play is performed Aug. 22 and 23.

Playwright Jean Kerr's comedy of a marriage gone astray is being directed by Kathy Ivany. The cast includes Carol Swinehart as Mary, Dan Doyle, Mary's divorced husband Bob; Eric Larson as Dirk Winston, movie actor, Roger Harbin as Oscar, Bob's lawyer friend, and Sally Gunne as Tiffany, Bob's fiancée.

Born in Manistique on Mar. 6, 1906, he was a graduate of Alma College. He was a member of the Cornithan Lodge No. 241, F&AM.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy, and two sisters, Mrs. Nona Blank and Mrs. Catherine Belangis.

Tar, Nicotine Figures Eyed In Advertising

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new rule proposed by the Federal Trade Commission would require cigarette manufacturers to disclose tar and nicotine figures in their advertising.

The rule, sure to be fought by the tobacco industry, would require that all cigarette advertising list the tar content of the nearest milligram and nicotine contents to the nearest one-tenth milligram.

The proposal, announced by the FTC today, will be the subject of public hearings beginning Oct. 15. It would have the effect of law if adopted by the commission after the hearings. A source in the FTC said Friday that tar and nicotine content was settled upon as the best indication of health hazards in smoking because of a 1966 study by the U.S. surgeon general that links tar and nicotine to frequency of disease.

The commission sought earlier to require that cigarette packages carry a more direct warning than the "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health" now printed on each pack.

The FTC would have required this warning: "Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death from cancer, coronary heart disease, chronic bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and other diseases."

But Congress pre-empted that warning by passing a bill prohibiting radio and television advertising of cigarettes after Jan. 1, 1971.

The bill requires a somewhat stronger statement on cigarette packs but bars the FTC from trying to list diseases some researchers have linked to smoking.

Discrimination Proof Is Sought By Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's chief spokesman on integration says it will be up to Southerners to prove that tax-exempt private academies are discriminating against Negroes.

Elliott L. Richardson, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, disavowed responsibility for monitoring the academies which have been springing up in the South as public schools moved toward desegregation.

"The door is always open if people in the community believe the open-door policy is a sham," he told the Senate's Equal Educational Opportunity Committee.

Richardson said Thursday that Southerners who feel the private schools are discriminating can complain to the Internal Revenue Service or file suit.

The private schools have been granted tax-exempt status on their pledge to accept pupils of all races.

When Does Life Leave The Body?

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The controversial question of "When does life leave the body?" is being answered medically at University of Michigan Hospital by a special three-man central nervous system committee.

The committee of three doctors was established to assist in cases of potential organ transplant donors whose life functions are artificially supported until the time of transplant surgery.

Basically, the committee's task is to determine when and whether a person is dead officially.

"Our job is to determine when brain death has occurred," said Dr. Kenneth Magee, professor of neurology at the university.

The potential organ donor's condition must be irreversible, he explained, adding: "There must be absolutely no chance that the individual could regain consciousness, breathe again, or maintain his blood-pressure or heart beat without dedication."

On the committee with Magee are Dr. Edgar Kahn, professor of neurosurgery, and Dr. Kenneth Kooi, professor of electroencephalography. Each evaluates the patient's medical record and clinical signs separately to determine whether he has any chance to recover.

Magee said that if any member of the committee finds the slightest evidence that the patient may recover, the group votes any transplant operation which might be performed with the patient's organs.

As an advisory body to the transplant surgeons, the committee has no responsibility of care for the potential organ donor, Magee explained. In turn, the transplant surgeons do not take part in the determination of death, he added.

Church Leaders To Pay Homage To Soviet Monk

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — A pewslee, wooden church was the setting today as leaders of the Orthodox church gathered to pay homage to a Russian monk in what will be his home as a saint.

The high point of a four-day, centuries-old canonization ceremony was Father Herman, believed to be the first man elevated to the sainthood in the Western Hemisphere, will come tonight.

His casket, buried on nearby Spruce Island since his death in 1877, will be carried in a procession around the church of the parish he helped found as a member of the Kodiak Mission of the Russian Orthodox Church nearly 133 years ago. Then it will be opened so parishioners can view the remains.

It will be followed by the solemn vigil of the Feast of St. Herman, the first observance in which he will be commemorated among the ranks of the saints.

Services will end Sunday with placement of the remains in a wooden reliquary, which will be housed in the Church of the Resurrection.

Among those here are Metropolitan Iriney of New York, primate of the Orthodox Church in America; the Rt. Rev. Theodosius, bishop of Sitka and Alaska; and Archbishop Paul of Kuopio, Finland, primate of the Orthodox Church of Finland, from whose Valamo monastery Father Herman set out for Alaska.

Detroit May Use Old-Style Units In Next Election

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's old-style voting machines were granted a temporary reprieve Friday as City Clerk George C. Edwards postponed a decision on whether to make future use of the computers that stirred controversy in Tuesday primary election.

Edwards said he will demand that the company which sold him the computer voting system extend its original "buy back" agreement until after the November general election.

Under the sales contract, Datamedia Computer Services Inc. agreed to buy the city's 3,300 lever-style voting machines for $900,000. But the company agreed to let the city "buy back" the machines if the computer system failed or if the city could get a higher price elsewhere.

Because of a problem in the computer accuracy test, complete returns from Tuesday's election did not become available until after 10 p.m. Thursday.

Speeding Detroit Police Car Rams Auto, Kills Woman

DETROIT (AP) — A Seima, Ala., woman was fatally injured Friday when a Detroit police car, sirens blaring as it rushed to an emergency, struck another car broadside at an intersection in Detroit.

The victim, Lela Williams, 50, was riding in a car driven by Cuba J. Goldman, of Detroit. Goldman and another passenger, Michele Grant, 16, are listed in critical condition at Ford Hospital.

Patrolmen Stanley Goodin and Arnold Cadwell were hospitalized with head and neck injuries.

100 Obscene Films Seized In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Police arrested five persons and confiscated 100 reels of allegedly obscene film Friday in what was described as the biggest anti-pornography strike ever conducted in the City of Detroit.

Wayne County Prosecutor William L. Cahalan, whose office obtained the warrants for the raid, said the crackdown had been launched because "there is a real concern among the citizens of Detroit and Wayne County about the spread of pornography."

The movies and $50,000 worth of projection equipment were seized at six different locations in the city.

The films, described by Cahalan as "hard-core pornography," were shown in two minute segments costing the viewer 25 cents for $2 a customer could watch the film in its entirety.

The five arrested Friday were to be charged with sale and possession of obscene materials, Cahalan said.

Body Of Accident Victim Recovered

ADRIAN (AP) — The body of a second man killed in the crash of a small airplane into Devils Lake near here July 26 was recovered Thursday.

Authorities said the body of Carl Powell, 41, of Troy, was recovered after it floated to the surface of the lake. Powell was a passenger in the plane.

The body of the pilot, James C. Young of Detroit, was recovered by dragging earlier this week.

Firms Would Pick Up Pollution Tab Under New Michigan Law

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The Michigan Legislature has voted to require manufacturers who dump contaminating industrial waste into state waters to contribute an estimate $1.5 million a year to a new pollution surveillance system.

Requested by Gov. William G. Milliken, the bill is a companion to legislation enacted earlier this summer allowing private citizens to take industry and state agencies to court over conservation issues regardless of whether personal loss or property right is involved.

State officials consider both measures to be the first of their kind in the nation. William Marks, a state water research expert, said Vermont charges a "cost of pollution" fee to industries that fail to meet water quality standards.

Under the proposed surveillance authority passed by the Michigan Legislature Friday, the State Water Resources Commission will be able to require:

—Detailed annual reports from all businesses in the state producing waste dumped into state sewers or waterways. The reports must specify the nature of the business, principal product, by-products and wastes as well as materials used.

Estimates of the total annual revenue, intended to used solely for government surveillance, range from $850,000 to $1.4 million.

The legislation, expected to take effect early next year, also would allow the commission to seek a court injunction against any company that fails to comply. As an inducement to temper that power, the commission also is authorized to negotiate consent decrees after a preliminary hearing.

The governor requested the legislation in the wake of an early spring rash of industrial mercury pollution that has restricted sport fishing in Lake St. Clair and connecting waters.

After issuing a total ban on recreational fishing, Milliken rejected under strong political pressure to allow "catch-and-release" fishing.

That has not proved popular, but he has resisted further efforts to win a relaxation of the limitation.

Since then, there have been other incidents of mercury pollution. An Upper Peninsula commercial laundry near the Wisconsin border was found to have killed sizeable numbers of game fish in the Iron River by releasing an anti-mildew agent. A more recent case involved contaminated livestock feed.

William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak listed the injured as Ray D. Younan, 47, of St. Clair Shores; Mirko Bakmaz, 51, of Warren; and Michael Settler, 56, of Roseville.

A passenger elevator in the same building fell two floors last March 10, injuring 13 persons, most of them Fisher Body executives.

Preliminary examination indicated Younan had suffered a fractured leg, Bakmaz, leg, arm and head injuries, and Settler, back and ankle injuries.

Dr. P. L. Neiswander, Fisher Body medical director, accompanied the men to the hospital. Since the March 10 elevator crash, Fisher Body employees have been barred from riding elevators.

The freighter which fell Friday had been loaded in the basement and dispatched by remote control to the first floor. Younan, Bakmaz and Settler were in the process of unloading it when it fell.

"We're not telling the people where the moneys will come from," Levin declared. "There is no provision for an equitable way of finding other money."

10 Per Cent Tax Eyed
Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, suggested the money would come from an increased income tax. "There's the possibility of a 10 per cent flat rate income tax on certain persons," he said, combining a 3 1/2 per cent hike in the state income tax with the current 2.6 per cent level and adding city income tax to the total.

"Let's talk about the graduated income tax," he challenged.

$5 Million Grant For Detroit Irks Outstate Solons

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Legislature concocted a prescription for financially ailing Detroit Friday that mixed sweet and bitter medicine for the nation's fifth largest city.

A precedent-setting $5 million grant, recommended for the city by Gov. William Milliken, was approved over objections of out-state legislators who denounced it as "piggy-backing" and "rising above principles of equal treatment for all."

At the same time, the Detroit Common Council received authority to levy an excise tax of one-fifth per cent on local gas, electricity and telephone bills. The tax, expected to go into effect about Oct. 1 and expire Dec. 31, 1972, unless extended by the Legislature, is estimated to be able to raise $17.5 million. Proceeds go to the city's police and fire departments.

The $5 million grant, also earmarked for public safety, was contained in a $56.5 million grants and transfers bill, part of Milliken's $1.76 billion budget for the fiscal year that began July 1.

Vocational Training Plan Funds Recieved

The Manistique Area Schools have received funding approval for a vocational skill training program which will place students in local businesses where they will be trained in special skills under actual job conditions.

The program is not an "on-the-job" training set-up, Supt. Edwin E. Wuehle said, since the students will not be paid for their work.

The funding will be used in contracting with local firms for use of their personnel and facilities in teaching students such special skills as baking, radio announcing, auto parts work, butchering, printing and various food service occupations.

The three-year program will begin next month and is one of nine state-wide projects approved by the State Department of Education as an "exemplary vocational education project."

Wuehle said he was "excited about the possibilities of the program which means students will be working and learning with persons who have already acquired job skills and perfected them with years of experience."

"By using local businesses as classrooms and local craftsmen as instructors we take advantage of existing facilities and eliminate the need for the school to duplicate costly equipment and expensive personnel," he continued.

"At the same time, the program benefits the business since it helps develop a reservoir of trained people and should eliminate the often expensive necessity of hiring untrained personnel and training them from scratch," he added.

In the project application, filed June 1 of this year, Wuehle noted that in high schools with less than 1500 enrollment certain specific occupational skills are totally ignored due to lack of financial resources, lack of number of students who can participate in skill training programs, lack of equipment, inadequate housing for equipment and lack of personnel. He added this district hoped to provide skill training for 25-30 students each semester.

First year cost of the project was estimated at $21,765 with ten per cent local contribution; $22,882, second year with 12 per cent local cost; and $23,276 and 14 per cent for third year operation. However, these per year budgetary estimates will have to be adjusted downward to accommodate the needs of the nine projects in the $200,000 project allocation, according to the letter Wuehle received from John W. Porter, acting superintendent of public instruction.

Stanley D. Arnold has been named project director. He has been teaching commercial subjects in the high school for the past four years and before that taught four years in Nahma High School, including one year as principal.

A graduate of Manistique High School, the 32-year old Arnold holds a B.A. from Austin Peay State University, Clarksville, Tenn., with majors in business education and history. He also has a provisional vocational certificate and had had considerable experience in various job occupations. He is also 1970-71 coordinator of the Office Education Cooperative Programs in the local district.

Local businessmen were surveyed to determine their interest in the project and the number of students they could handle on a contracted payment basis. The following businesses will be involved in the project:

The Surf and Fireside restaurants; Radio Station WTIC; Norden's Foodland meat department; Linderoth Auto Sales; the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune; Ken's Bakery and Lawrence Gas and Appliance Company in Germfask.

The bill requires a somewhat stronger statement on cigarette packs but bars the FTC from trying to list diseases some researchers have linked to smoking.

Reid And Kelly Are Promoted

Two managerial promotions at the Manistique Pulp & Paper Co. were announced Friday by Chief Executive Officer Frank S. Hoholik, president of Field Enterprises Inc., Manistique subsidiary.

Maurice Reid, 59, assumed duties as plant superintendent, while Gilbert Kelly, 41, was named chief plant engineer. Both promotions were effective Friday, Hoholik said.

Supt. Reid, who has been with the mill since 1946, was formerly chief electrician, master mechanic, and plant engineer. He was born in Manistique, is a 1929 graduate of Manistique High School, attended the New York Trade School of Electricity and graduated from Coyne Electrical School, Chicago.

His wife, Kathleen, and five children, live at Indian Lake.

Former Assistant Plant Engineer Kelly, who takes over as chief plant engineer, came to the Manistique Pulp & Paper Co. last year from Royal Oak Charcoal Co., Marquette. He previously worked as engineer at East Iowa Light & Power Co., Montpelier, Iowa, and as assistant chief city engineer, Rochelle, Ill.

He attended Ovid High School and is a 1948 graduate of Gladstone High School. He attended Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, and graduated in 1953 from Utilities Engineering Institute, Chicago, as a diesel engineer.

Kelly, his wife Arlene, and their two children live at 549 Oak St.

Obituary

WALTER J. BURTON
Funeral services will be held Monday from the Haley Funeral Home in Southfield for Walter J. Burton, 64, former Manistique resident. Burial will follow in the Redford Cemetery in Detroit.

Mr. Burton, who lived at 4545 Pickering St., in Birmingham, was killed in an automobile accident Aug. 6 in Southfield. He retired in 1966 from the Good Body brokerage firm in Birmingham.

Born in Manistique on Mar. 6, 1906, he was a graduate of Alma College. He was a member of the Corinthian Lodge No. 241, F.&AM.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy, and two sisters, Mrs. Nona Blank and Mrs. Catherine Belangia.

Events

Senior Citizens Club
The club will meet at the G. Leslie Bouscher cottage on Indian Lake Tuesday, Aug. 11 at 12 noon for a picnic. Anyone needing transportation should call Mrs. Joseph Carefelle at 341-2550. Those attending are asked to bring their table service. No meeting will be held Tuesday evening.

Hiawatha Goodwill Club
The Goodwill Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eric Tornberg, Rte. 1, with Mrs. Maynard Blandford, assisting hostess. Cards were played with awards going to Mrs. Bob Hoar and Mrs. Clifford Christensen. Mrs. Robert Michaels won the door prize.

Al (Spike) Shirk, an employee of the Escanaba Daily Press, will be making his 1970 debut at the Escanaba Speedway tonight in the sportsman class, when he brings his familiar 'Black Sheep' back to the race track. His 'Black Sheep' which is car No. 99, is a white 1960 Ford with a 352 cubic inch engine, with a black sheep painted on the hood. Asked why he is returning to the race track, Shirk stated, "that he is determined to prove a point, that black sheep are not always losers."

The weekly point standings at the Escanaba Speedway showed little change in the modified standings with a former leader back on top of the sportsman division. Ed Powley of the Canadian Soo has moved out to a 415 point lead over Bob Iverson of Hyde, with Jerry Richer of Schaffer third, 315 points behind Iverson. In the sportsman division, Wennele Tourangeau of Schaffer has regained the No. 1 spot and leads Pat Temple of Norway by 65 points. The standings after last week's action is as follows:

Modified	Sportsman
1. Ed Powley 4060	1. Wennele Tourangeau 3020
2. Bob Iverson 3845	2. Pat Temple 2955
3. Jerry Richer 3240	3. Bill Peterson 2685

10. Herb Iverson 1730	10. Carl Chaltry 1505

Tom Domres, former Gladstone football star, will be starting his second season as defensive tackle for the Houston Oilers tonight when the Oilers take on the New Orleans Saints. Domres, who stands 6-3 and weighs 260 pounds, showed consistent improvement last year and has so far been impressive this year in practice according to reports from the Oilers training camp. Next Saturday, the Oilers will take on the Chicago Bears, a team Houston defeated last year 19-17.

Rolf Deming, Menominee Riverside Country club pro on leave to join the professional golf tour, tied the course record recently at the Marinette Little River Country Club when he fired a card of 65 for the 18-hole layout. Deming now shares the record with Steve Bull, Milwaukee Tripoli pro and Fran Deschaine, a former local resident and now a military service pilot.

The Marquette Iron Rangers Players Executive Committee announced recently that their planned trip to Finland for the Sir William Cup Tournament next spring has been definitely cancelled. According to the committee, this decision was reached after many problems facing the team proved to be insurmountable, with the major stumbling block being the inability to get clearance from the American Hockey Association.

Left-handed Jim Magnuson of Marinette, Wis. won his first major league game this past week as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Milwaukee Brewers 9-3. Magnuson, who now has a 1-2 major league record, pitched six and two third innings, giving up three runs on five hits, walked three and struck out two in picking up his initial victory.

Kates Nears U.P. Men's Golf Title

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont.—Paul Kates of Canadian Soo took a four-stroke lead into the final round of the Upper Peninsula Men's Golf Tournament.

Kates carded an even par 72 Friday in moving past 19-year-old Ray Kolesar of Ironwood, who dropped seven strokes behind with an eight-over-par 80.

Kolesar had paced the tournament for the first two days, the same as he did last year at Menominee.

Paul Bietala of Iron Mountain and Larry Tiziani of Ironwood were closest to Kates as play began this morning. Both turned in 75 Friday for 54-hole scores of 224.

Kates had rounds of 74, 74 and 72 for a 54-hole total of 220.

Wayne Villa of Canadian Soo, who moved to challenge for the lead with a fine 71 Thursday, dropped five strokes behind Kates with a 77. He stood alone at 225.

Reds, Yankees Capture Junior Baseball Titles

Play concluded in the Wells Township baseball program this week with the Reds of Soo Hill emerging victorious in the Beginner's League and the Yankees of Soo Hill capturing the Junior title.

The Reds marched to the championship by defeating the Tigers 23-4, disposing of the Orioles 17-4 and then thoroughly beating the Expos in the final game 28-13. They were led by the fine hitting and pitching of their captain Jimmy Winkler. Other members of the Reds who played in the championship game were: Brent Lantagne, Don Cappellet, Dana Van Dress, Dale Van Dress, David Wright, Danny LaFave, David LaFave, Mark Noel, and Tom Blanchette.

The Yankees secured their title by beating the Pirates and Brewers in their first 2 games and then taking 2 out of 3 in a final series with the Tigers. They captured the first game 4-1, then lost the second 12-9, and then came back to capture the finale 9-2 behind the pitching of Mike Cappellet. Other members of the championship Yankees were Captain Dean Swanson, Mike Kallio, Mike Cappellet, Danny Johnson, Kevin Jackson, Jim Thomma, Jon Servant, Mike Noel, Bruce Judson, Jeff LaFave and Trot Moser.

Ken Hruka of Marquette, the defending champion, was nine strokes behind at 229 after his second straight 76.

Championship flight scores: P. Bietala, Can. Soo 74-74-72-220; L. Tiziani, Ironwood 74-75-75-224; W. Villa, Can. Soo 77-71-77-225; R. Kolesar, Ironwood 71-76-80-227; D. Miasek, Can. Umpires' Compromise Is Costly To Tigers

NEW YORK (AP)—A compromise, according to Webster's third international dictionary, is "a settlement by arbitration or by consent reached by mutual concessions."

Managers Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees and Mayo Smith of the Detroit Tigers, participants in a spectacular dust-kicking compromise Thursday night, had a few other words for it.

Houk and Smith took turns practicing their punting around home plate in the sixth inning of what turned into a 5-1 Yankee victory over the Tigers.

At the time of the not-so-great compromise, the score was tied at 1-1 with two out. Roy White on third, Danny Cater on second and John Ellis at bat in the Yankee sixth.

Starts Small War Suddenly one of Les Cain's pitches broke past catcher Bill Freehan and rolled to the backstop. White scored on the wild pitch and when Freehan started a small war with plate umpire Marty Springstead, Cater dashed home, too.

"There it is," said Freehan, holding up the baseball in the Tiger dressing room. "There was a dark smudge, just like shoe polish makes, right across Joe Cronin's signature."

"The ball hit Ellis' foot," said Freehan. "When I saw the smudge, I had the evidence." The only trouble with Freehan's evidence was that umpire Springstead decided the wrong man's shoe polish—in this case Freehan's—was on the ball.

While Freehan argued in vain, wishing all the while that the Tigers were white shoes like the Oakland A's do, Houk's adding machine mind computed two runs—White and Cater—for his club.

Smith Chimed In That's when Smith chimed in with some dust kicking around Springstead and the three other umpires who were holding a pow wow among themselves to decide how to sort this one out. After a few moments, Springstead motioned to the Yankee dugout, sending Cater back to third.

NBA Will Open Season Oct. 13

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Basketball Association opens its 25th season Tuesday, Oct. 13, with two games—Boston at New York and San Diego at Chicago.

The NBA schedule for the 1970-71 season was announced Saturday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy, who said the three new expansion clubs boosted the number of games to 697, not counting the playoffs.

The season runs through March 23, 1971. The new teams are the Buffalo Braves, Cleveland Cavaliers, and Portland Trail Blazers, making a total of 17 clubs.

For the first time, the NBA will have four divisions within the framework of the Eastern and Western Conferences. Here is the breakdown:

Eastern Conference—Atlantic Division—Boston, Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia.

Central Division—Atlanta, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Cleveland.

Western Conference—Midwest Division—Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, Phoenix.

Pacific Division—Los Angeles, Portland, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle.

"When he started signalling, I thought we had won the argument," said Freehan. "I figured we'd won it all, that the bases would be loaded."

"Then they said it was a wild pitch and White's run counted, but Cater had to go back because time was called when I started arguing."

"They were trying to compromise," said Freehan. "It was a phoney call. It can't be halfway like that. It's all or nothing."

All was what Houk was after.

He exploded out of the Yankee dugout when Cater was ordered back to third. And he did a more exaggerated dust-kicking show than Smith had.

"I knew I had one run on the wild pitch," Houk said. "I was fighting for the other one. I guess Mayo wanted us not to have any. I wanted us to have both."

Run Is Vital The umpire compromised, allowing the Yankees one run. "It was a heck of a way to lose a ball game," said Smith. "On a compromise."

The run was vital until the eighth when the Yankees wrapped up the victory with three more, one of them a double by Cater and two on Bobby Murcer's single.

Gary Wasilvskid got credit for the victory, working four scoreless innings in relief and driving in the Yankees' first run with a base hit—his first one after seven straight strikeouts. He belted starter Mike McCormick out of a bases-loaded, none out jam in the third but naturally, like any pitcher, he preferred to talk about his hitting. "It's about time," said Wasilvskid. "They started throwing the ball where I've been swinging."

Home Pro Fixes Flaws

Quick Trip Helps Shaw

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Tom Shaw credits a quick trip home for a consultation with his old club pro for the sudden improvement in his game.

"I was doing just two things wrong," the cheerful 27-year-old Shaw said. "I was hitting them short and hitting them crooked. And that just won't get it done out here."

Shaw, however, got it done Friday, shooting a four-under-par 66 and moving into a tie with George Archer for the second-round lead in the $150,000 American Golf Classic.

They had matching 36-hole totals of 136, four-under-par on the tough 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course. Archer, the first-round leader, retained a share of the top spot with a second-round 69.

Lurking just one stroke back, however, was Australian Bruce Crampton, winner of last week's rich Westchester Classic. The 34-year-old tour veteran had a 68 for 137.

Frank Beard, 65, and Tommy Aaron, 69, followed at 138. Tied at 139 were defending champion Ray Floyd, Tommy Jacobs and Julius Boros.

Stay In Contention Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player remained in contention at 140. Nicklaus had a second-round 67 and Player a 68. Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Lee Trevino are not competing here.

Tony Jacklin, making his first appearance in this country since winning the U.S. Open, failed to make the cut for the final two rounds. It took a score of 148 to make it and Jacklin had a whopping 78 Friday for 152.

"It was ridiculous out there," Jacklin said. "I got to laughing at myself."

Shaw wasn't laughing, but he was all smiles after moving into a share of the top spot.

"I missed the cut at Westchester last week," said Shaw, "and went home to Milwaukee. Ore. I wanted to talk to my club pro there, Howard Bonar. He usually go see him when I'm playing bad. He helped me on a couple of things I was doing wrong."

Break Player Shaw said it primarily concerned a change in his grip. A notorious streak player, Shaw won twice last year, but missed 11 straight cuts after taking his first title. He has been in the top 10 three times this year, his best finish a tie for fifth.

"I was in the top 10 only twice last year, and won both of those," he said. "I think I'm going to get real good before I get consistent. And I'll let you figure that one out."

Tom had three bogeys, missing the green on all of them, and seven birds. He knocked in putts of 40, 10, and 20-feet on the

Manistique Reaches Championship Game

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis.—(Special to the Daily Press)—The championship hopes of Manistique's Little Leagueers rested on the strong arm of Jeff Miller and the bats of his teammates today.

Miller was scheduled to take the mound for Manistique against Appleton Northside Kiwanis today in the finals of the Sectional Little League tournament.

Manistique advanced to the championship game by beating Rothschild-Schofield-Weston of suburban Wausau, Wis., Friday afternoon 9-3. Appleton collected 10 hits and nipped Milwaukee North Shore National 3-2 in the second game. Manistique jumped to a 3-0 lead in the second inning and lengthened it to 7-0 before the Wisconsin team could score on the right-handed slants of Jay Ketek.

In the second inning, Jeff Miller singled, moved to second on a passed ball and scored when a throw to third base went wild after an infield bouncer by Bob Masters. Masters and Steve White, who walked, also scored in the inning on errors.

Jack Weber, who had a pair of hits for Manistique, scored Manistique's fourth run in the third inning, drawing a walk, moving to second on a wild pitch and coming home after an infield error.

In the fourth, Randy Lund singled and White walked and both rode home on a double by Bert Chandler. After a single by Weber, Chandler scored the third run of the inning on an error at third base.

Runners Steal Manistique scored its final two runs in the sixth inning when John Ozanich walked. Weber singled and Jim Nelson was safe on an error, loading the bases. Ketek forced Ozanich at the plate, but Miller walked to force in a run and when the Rothschild-Schofield-Weston catcher walked out to talk to his pitcher without calling timeout all three Manistique runners stole a base, Nelson scoring.

Ketek limited the Wausau area team to six hits, one of them a two-run homer in the fourth inning by Mike Pohl. Ketek struck out eight and didn't allow a walk.

The winner of today's game will advance to the Central States Region Division 1 tournament, next weekend at Des Moines, Iowa. The Des Moines winner goes to the Regional Tournament at Kokomo, Ind., with that victor advancing to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

8:30—Independents vs. Flat Rock

The Merchants and Goebel advanced to the semi-finals of the City Softball Tournament Friday night.

The Merchants dumped Independents 6-3 behind the five-hit pitching of Bill McGovern and Ray Payment fired a three-hitter as Goebel checked Flat Rock 4-1.

Tournament play will continue with a pair of loser's bracket games at 7 and 8:30 p.m. today. Sunday, the Merchants will clash with Goebel.

at 1 p.m. with the winner advancing to the finals at 5:30 and the loser dropping into the loser's bracket where games are scheduled at 2:30 and 4 p.m.

The Merchants broke a 1-1 tie with three runs in the fifth inning, then added a pair of insurance runs in the sixth. In the fifth, Jan Morin was safe on an error, Cliff O'Donnell singled and McGovern tripled both runners home. McGovern scored later on a sacrifice fly.

In the sixth, Bob Corriveau doubled and Al Erickson tripled him home. Erickson scored on a single by O'Donnell.

The Independents picked up single runs in the second, fifth and seventh innings. Dale Demars drove in a pair of runs with a double and a triple. Left Smith took the loss for Independents, allowing eight hits.

Bob Myrvall and Payment paced Goebel, each collecting a pair of hits off losing pitcher Bill Smith. Flat Rock's lone run came on a homer by Pinar in the second inning.

Sluggers Win Girls Crown

The Sluggers of the girls recreation softball league upset the favored Impossibles for the championship this week, 13-8.

The Impossibles took a 3-0 lead in the first inning, but fell behind in the fourth as Sue Flippin, Pam VanEnkevort and Barbara Lee connected for homers. Sue Schafer and Peggy Roberts homered for the Impossibles in the fifth.

The Reds marched to the championship by defeating the Tigers 23-4, disposing of the Orioles 17-4 and then thoroughly beating the Expos in the final game 28-13. They were led by the fine hitting and pitching of their captain Jimmy Winkler. Other members of the Reds who played in the championship game were: Brent Lantagne, Don Cappert, Dana Van Dress, Dale Van Dress, Ed Wright, Danny LaFave, David LaFave, Mark Noel, and Tom Blanchette.

The Yankees secured their title by beating the Padres and Brewers in their first 2 games and then taking 2 out of 3 in a final series with the Tigers. They captured the first game 4-1, then lost the second 12-9, and then came back to capture the finale 9-2 behind the pitching of Mike Cappert. Other members of the championship Yankees were Captain Dean Swanson, Mike Kallio, Mike Cappert, Danny Johnson, Kevin Jackson, Jim Thoma, Jon Servant, Mike Noel, Bruce Judson, Jeff LaFave and Trot Mosier.

Ken Hruska of Marquette, the defending champion, was nine strokes behind at 229 after his second straight 76.

Umpires' Compromise Is Costly To Tigers

NEW YORK (AP) — A compromise, according to Webster's third international dictionary, is "a settlement by arbitration or by consent reached by mutual concessions."

Managers Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees and Mayo Smith of the Detroit Tigers, participants in a spectacular dust-kicking compromise Thursday night, had a few other words for it.

Houk and Smith took turns practicing their punting around home plate in the sixth inning of what turned into a 5-1 Yankee victory over the Tigers.

At the time of the not-so-great compromise, the score was tied at 1-1 with two out. Roy White on third, Danny Cater on second and John Ellis at bat in the Yankee sixth.

Starts Small War
Suddenly one of Les Cain's pitches broke past catcher Bill Freehan and rolled to the backstop. White scored on the wild pitch and when Freehan started a small war with plate umpire Marty Springstead, Cater dashed home, too.

"There it is," said Freehan, holding up the baseball in the Tiger dressing room. "There was a dark smudge, just like shoe polish makes, right across Joe Cronin's signature."

"The ball hit Ellis' foot," said Freehan. "When I saw the smudge, I had the evidence."

The only trouble with Freehan's evidence was that umpire Springstead decided the wrong man's show polish — in this case Freehan's — was on the ball.

While Freehan argued in vain, wishing all the while that the Tigers were white shoes like the Oakland A's do, Houk's adding machine mind computed two runs—White and Cater—for his club.

Smith Chimed In
That's when Smith chimed in with some dust kicking around Springstead and the three other umpires who were holding a pow wow among themselves to decide how to sort this one out. After a few moments, Springstead motioned to the Yankee dugout, sending Cater back to third.

NBA Will Open Season Oct. 13

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association opens its 25th season Tuesday, Oct. 13, with two games—Boston at New York and San Diego at Chicago.

The NBA schedule for the 1970-71 season was announced Saturday by Commissioner Walter Kennedy, who said the three new expansion clubs boosted the number of games to 697, not counting the playoffs.

The season runs through March 23, 1971.

The new teams are the Buffalo Braves, Cleveland Cavaliers, and Portland Trail Blazers, making a total of 17 clubs.

For the first time, the NBA will have four divisions within the framework of the Eastern and Western Conferences. Here is the breakdown:

Eastern Conference
Atlantic Division—Boston, Buffalo, New York, Philadelphia.

Central Division—Atlanta, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Cleveland.

Western Conference
Midwest Division—Chicago, Detroit, Milwaukee, Phoenix.

Pacific Division—Los Angeles, Portland, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle.

"When he started signalling, I thought we had won the argument," said Freehan. "I figured we'd won it all, that the bases would be loaded."

"Then they said it was a wild pitch and White's run counted, but Cater had to go back because time was called when I started arguing."

"They were trying to compromise," said Freehan. "It was a phoney call. It can't be halfway like that. It's all or nothing."

All was what Houk was after.

Tournament Schedule
Monday: Game 7 — River Post vs. Lark's, diamond No. 1

Game 8 — Paper Mill vs. Heynness-Selins, diamond No. 2

Tuesday: Game 9 — Winner of Paper Mill-Heynness game vs. Loser of River Post-Lark's game (either diamond)

Wednesday: Game 10—Winner of Game 9, either diamond. If necessary, Game 11 may have to be played to determine a tournament winner. This game probably would be played on either Wednesday as a second game, or Thursday as a single game. Games will start at 7 p.m.

Gary Waslewski got credit for the victory, working four scoreless innings in relief and driving in the Yankees' first run with a base hit—his first one after seven straight strikeouts.

He bailed starter Mike McCormick out of a bases-loaded, none out jam in the third but naturally, like any pitcher, he preferred to talk about his hitting.

"It's about time," said Waslewski. "they started throwing the ball where I've been swinging."

Home Pro Fixes Flaws

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Tom Shaw credits a quick trip home for a consultation with his old club pro for the sudden improvement in his game.

"I was doing just two things wrong," the cheerful 27-year-old Shaw said. "I was hitting them short and hitting them crooked. And that just won't get it done out here."

Shaw, however, got it done Friday, shooting a four-under-par 66 and moving into a tie with George Archer for the second-round lead in the $150,000 American Golf Classic.

They had matching 36-hole totals of 136, four-under-par on the tough 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course. Archer, the first-round leader, retained a share of the top spot with a second-round 69.

Lurking just one stroke back, however, was Australian Bruce Crampton, winner of last week's rich Westchester Classic. The 34-year-old tour veteran had a 68 for 137.

Frank Beard, 65, and Tommy Aaron, 69, followed at 138. Tied at 139 were defending champion Ray Floyd, Tommy Jacobs and Julius Boros.

Stay In Contention
Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player remained in contention at 140. Nicklaus had a second-round 67 and Player a 68. Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Lee Trevino are not competing here.

He exploded out of the Yankee dugout when Cater was ordered back to third. And he did a more exaggerated dust-kicking show than Smith had.

"I knew I had one run on the wild pitch," Houk said. "I was fighting for the other one. I guess Mayo wanted us not to have any. I wanted us to have both."

Run Is Vital
The umpire compromised, allowing the Yankees one run.

"It was a heck of a way to lose a ball game," said Smith. "On a compromise."

The run was vital until the eighth when the Yankees wrapped up the victory with three more, one of them a double by Cater and two on Bobby Murcer's singl.

He bailed starter Mike McCormick out of a bases-loaded, none out jam in the third but naturally, like any pitcher, he preferred to talk about his hitting.

"It's about time," said Waslewski. "they started throwing the ball where I've been swinging."

Shaw wasn't laughing, but he was all smiles after moving into a share of the top spot.

"I missed the cut at Westchester last week," said Shaw, "and went home to Milwaukee, Ore. I wanted to talk to my club pro there, Howard Bonar. I usually go see him when I'm playing bad. He helped me on a couple of things I was doing wrong."

Streak Player
Shaw said it primarily concerned a change in his grip.

A notorious streak player, Shaw won twice last year, but missed 11 straight cuts after taking his first title. He has been in the top 10 three times this year, his best finish a tie for fifth.

"I was in the top 10 only twice last year, and won both of those," he said. "I think I'm going to get real good before I get consistent. And I'll let you figure that one out."

Tom had three bogeys, missing the green on all of them, and seven birds. He knocked in putts of 40, 10, and 20-feet on the

Manistique Reaches Championship Game

CHIPPEWA FALLS, Wis.—(Special to the Daily Press)—The championship hopes of Manistique's Little Leaguers rested on the strong arm of Jeff Miller and the bats of his teammates today.

Miller was scheduled to take the mound for Manistique against Appleton Northside Kiwanis today in the finals of the Sectional Little League tournament.

Manistique advanced to the championship game by beating Rothschild-Schofield-Weston of suburban Wausau, Wis., Friday afternoon 9-3. Appleton collected 10 hits and nipped Milwaukee North Shore National 3-2 in the second game.

Jump Into Lead

Manistique jumped to a 3-0 lead in the second inning and lengthened it to 7-0 before the Wisconsin team could score on the right-handed slants of Jay Ketcik.

In the second inning, Jeff Miller singled, moved to second on a passed ball and scored when a throw to third base went wild after an infield bouncer by Bob Masters. Masters and Steve White, who walked, also scored in the inning on errors.

Jack Weber, who had a pair of hits for Manistique, scored Manistique's fourth run in the third inning, drawing a walk, moving to second on a wild pitch and coming home after an infield error.

In the fourth, Randy Lund singled and White walked and both rode home on a double by Bert Chandler. After a single by Weber, Chandler scored the third run of the inning on an error at third base.

Runners Steal
Manistique scored its final two runs in the sixth inning when John Ozanich walked.

Weber singled and Jim Nelson was safe on an error, loading the bases. Ketcik forced Ozanich at the plate, but Miller walked to force in a run and when the Rothschild-Schofield-Weston catcher walked out to talk to his pitcher without calling timeout all three Manistique runners stole a base, Nelson scoring.

Ketcik limited the Wausau area team to six hits, one of them a two-run homer in the fourth inning by Mike Pohl. Ketcik struck out eight and didn't allow a walk.

The winner of today's game will advance to the Central States Region Division 1 tournament next weekend at Des Moines, Iowa. The Des Moines winner goes to the Regional Tournament at Kokomo, Ind., with that victor advancing to the Little League World Series at Williamsport, Pa.

In the sixth, Bob Corriveau doubled and Al Erickson tripled him home. Erickson scored on a single by O'Donnell.

The Independents picked up single runs in the second, fifth and seventh innings. Dale Demars drove in a pair of runs with a double and a triple. Left Smith took the loss for Independents, allowing eight hits.

Bob Myrvall and Payment paced Goebel, each collecting a pair of hits off losing pitcher Bill Smith. Flat Rock's lone run came on a homer by Pinar in the second inning.

Ten Games To Launch '70 Pro Football Season

By The Associated Press
The storm has just ended and some thunder lingers on, but nevertheless the stars will come out tonight as headline-grabbing pro football launches the 1970 exhibition season.

The season that almost never was is alive and kicking in 10 stadiums, less than a week after the end of the volatile veterans' strike.

A few "name" players will be in street clothes, but there'll be enough talent to go around as the sport opens the new decade with a new alignment and some old faces.

Five of the games will be between teams in the newly-fashioned American and National conferences—Cleveland at Los Angeles; Washington at Cincinnati; Chicago at Houston; Dallas at San Diego, and Kansas City at Detroit.

In American Conference games, Baltimore is at Oakland; Pittsburgh plays Miami at Jacksonville, Fla., and Buffalo plays the New York Jets at Birmingham, Ala. The New York Giants are at Green Bay in a National Conference contest.

Minnesota played New Orleans in the annual Hall of Fame game at Canton, Ohio in the only afternoon contest.

Namath Out
Veteran Babe Parilli and young Al Woodall will share the quarterbacking for the Joe Namath-less Jets. Namath, New York's ace quarterback and sometime movie star, has been quoted as saying he's finished with football because of personal problems.

It's sure to be a disappointment for the crowd in Birmingham, not far from Alabama where Namath played his college ball. It was billed weeks ago as a battle between Namath and Buffalo's deer-quick O.J. Simpson.

Joe Kapp, another dissatisfied quarterback, was missing from the Minnesota lineup. He wants more money.

Others involved in bitter contract disputes who will stay home are: running back Jim Nance of Boston; receiver Paul Warfield of Miami; All-Pro lineman Alex Karras of Detroit and veteran defensive end George Andrie of Dallas.

Lance Alworth, San Diego's record-cracking receiver, will also be among the missing along with Herb Adderly, Green Bay's trigger-quick defensive wonder. Both have retired, but Alworth has hinted he might reconsider.

Bradshaw To Play
Quarterback Terry Bradshaw, Pittsburgh's No. 1 draft pick, will "see plenty of work," according to Steelers' Coach Chuck Noll. Either Terry Hanratty or Kent Nix will counter for Miami.

Green Bay and New York clash in their traditional preseason opener with the Packers going after their ninth victory in the series. The Giants have won only once, 15-14 two years ago.

Coach George Allen of Los Angeles said he plans to lead with his veterans, including bomb-throwing Roman Gabriel at quarterback. Cleveland will have Bill Nelson at the controls and high-flying Leroy Kelly at one of the running spots.

Houston is starting a new quarterback, veteran Charlie Johnson, who was acquired during the off-season from St. Louis. Chicago offers Gale Sayers, their flashy runner.

Rookie pass catching sensation Walker Gillette, San Diego's No. 1 draft pick from Richmond, figures to see duty with Alworth gone. Dallas has quarterbacks Craig Morton and Roger Staubach and an unlimited book of offensive plays.

Cook Hurting
With star Greg Cook hurting, San Wyche will start at quarterback for Cincinnati. Washington has strong-armed Sonny Jurgensen and his magnificent Flying Machine.

Rookies are promised plenty of action in the Baltimore-Oakland clash, although both coaches Don McCafferty of the Colts and John Madden of the Raiders will start their veterans.

World Champion Kansas City, fresh from a 24-3 breeze over the College All-Stars at Chicago, has the training edge over Detroit. The Lions will throw quarterbacks Bill Munson and Greg Landry at the Super Chiefs.

McCafferty will be making his debut as coach of the Colts, as will Don Shula, who has taken over the top sport at Miami.

Moose Takes Met Medicine, Pirates Boost League Lead

By The Associated Press
There are all kinds of treatments to make ailing pitchers feel better. The tonic for Bob Moose seems to be the New York Mets.

The young Pittsburgh right-hander took a shot of Met medicine Friday night and it tasted every bit as good as it did the previous time he faced them, last September.

He didn't pitch a no-hitter like he did then but he did come up with a four-hit, 6-1 victory in which he showed new signs of the arm trouble that had held him to two starts since June 28.

The complete game victory, fifth in a row for the Pittsburgh pitching staff, shot the Pirates' lead over the Mets in the National League East up to 3 1/2 games.

Other NL action saw Philadelphia down the Chicago Cubs 4-1, Cincinnati edge Los Angeles 4-2, Houston trounce San Francisco 22-1, St. Louis nip Montreal 2-1 and Atlanta beat San Diego 8-2.

Belted by Montreal last Sunday, Moose was in control all the way against the Mets. New York's run came in the fourth when Bud Harrelson walked, Ken Boswell singled and Harrelson scored on a doubleplay.

Pittsburgh tied the game in the bottom of the fourth, then broke it open with five in the sixth. Willie Stargell hit his 22nd homer, Moose doubled in a run and 5-foot-4 Fred Patek blasted a three-run homer, his first of the season.

Tony Taylor's pinch, two-run single snapped a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning for Philadelphia and dropped the Cubs 5 1/2 games behind Pittsburgh. Billy Wili-ams, who struck as a pinch hitter with the bases loaded in the Cubs ninth, extended his NL record of consecutive games played to 1,083.

Trailing 2-1, Cincinnati came up with three runs in the eighth and opened up a 13-game lead over second-place Los Angeles in the West. Lee May's two-run double was the big blow in the inning.

The Dodgers had taken a 2-0 lead on Tom Haller's two-run homer in the second. Johnny Bench belted his 38th homer for Cincinnati in the fourth.

Doug Rader slammed a three-run homer and John Edwards cracked a two-run triple and an RBI single in Houston's rout of San Francisco.

Gibson Nets 15th
St. Louis scored runs on Joe Torre's single and a wild pitch by Dan McGinn and Bob Gibson fired a five-hitter against Montreal. It was Gibson's 15th victory against five losses and the Cardinals' 10th in 12 games.

Orlando Cepeda's three-run homer, his 25th, and a two-run blast by Hank Aaron, his 32nd, keyed Atlanta's first-game victory over San Diego. Aaron also singled in a run.

San Diego took the nightcap as Al Ferrara drove in two runs with a triple and a single. Ollie Brown singled home two and Clarence Gaston also singled for the Padres.

Hillsdale Skaters Second In Derby

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A roller skating team from Hillsdale, Mich., placed second in the novice fours competition at the American Roller Skating Championships Friday.

The Hillsdale team was comprised of Doug and Carol Ingles, and Charles Campbell and Shari Ingles.

The events continue through next Wednesday, with the world championships scheduled next weekend.

Of the 13 three-time Big Ten Individual Wrestling champions, Michigan claims five: Bob Fehrs, Fritz Kellerman, Norvard Nalan, Max Pearson, and Mike Rodriguez.

Campaneris Hits First, But Twins Score Knockout

By The Associated Press

Oakland's Bert Campaneris struck the first blow, but the Minnesota Twins landed the last one ... for another one-punch knockout.

The Twins floored the A's 2-1 Friday night on Jim Holt's lead off home run in the 11th inning as Jim Perry, stung by Campaneris' first-pitch homer at the outset, scattered four more hits to become the first 17-game winner in the majors.

It was the second consecutive sudden-death victory for the Twins, George Mitterwald having beaten California 2-1 Thursday night with a leadoff homer in the 14th, and their ninth triumph in 10 extra-inning games this year.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland tripped Baltimore 10-4; the New York Yankees downed Detroit 5-1; California shaded the Chicago White Sox 6-4; Boston defeated Washington 3-1 and Kansas City swept a two-night twin bill from Milwaukee, 4-0 and 10-2.

Phoebe Chased
Perry, 17-8, stymied Oakland after Campaneris' first inning blast and the Twins bounced back on Rich Reese's second-inning homer off Catfish Hunter before Holt greeted Marcel Lachemann in the 11th with his first game-winning homer.

The victory gave the West Division leaders a 7-1 edge over the A's this season.

The Indians, hitting against Baltimore's Tom Phoebus for 5-23 innings, chased him and battered two relievers in a seven-run seventh. Two-run singles by Ted Uhlaender and Graig Nettles keyed the uprising and Uhlaender homered in the eighth.

Airtight relief pitching by Gary Waslewski and Jack Aker propelled the Yankees past Detroit. New York broke a 1-1 tie on a wild pitch by Les Cain in the sixth and added three runs in the eighth, two of them on Bobby Murcer's single.

Jay Johnstone and Roger Repoz homered for the Angels, who severed a 4-4 knot in the eighth on a bases-loaded throwing error by shortstop Luis Aparicio. Bill Voss and Jim Fregosi scored when Aparicio, trying to complete a doubleplay, threw the ball away.

Keonice Wins
Cal Keonice picked up his first victory as a starting pitcher in almost two years with ninth-inning relief help as the Red Sox got past Washington on Carl Yastrzemski's run-scoring single and Tony Conigliaro's RBI double in the sixth.

Cookie Rojas drove in four runs with four singles as the Royals completed their sweep over the Brewers, who have lost five in succession. Rookie Rich Severson's first major league homer, a three-run blast, decided the opener as rookie Bob Johnson and veteran fireballer Ted Abernathy blanked the Brewers on five hits.

Ten Games To Launch '70 Pro Football Season

By The Associated Press

The storm has just ended and some thunder lingers on, but nevertheless the stars will come out tonight as headline-grabbing pro football launches the 1970 exhibition season.

The season that almost-never was is alive and kicking in 10 stadiums, less than a week after the end of the volatile veterans' strike.

A few "name" players will be in street clothes, but there'll be enough talent to go around as the sport opens the new decade with a new alignment and some old faces.

Five of the games will be between teams in the newly-fashioned American and National conferences—Cleveland at Los Angeles; Washington at Cincinnati; Chicago at Houston; Dallas at San Diego, and Kansas City at Detroit.

In American Conference games, Baltimore is at Oakland; Pittsburgh plays Miami at Jacksonville, Fla., and Buffalo plays the New York Jets at Birmingham, Ala. The New York Giants are at Green Bay in a National Conference contest.

Minnesota played New Orleans in the annual Hall of Fame game at Canton, Ohio in the only afternoon contest.

Namath Out

Veteran Babe Parilli and young Al Woodall will share the quarterbacking for the Joe Namath-less Jets. Namath, New York's ace quarterback and sometime movie star, has been quoted as saying he's finished with football because of personal problems.

It's sure to be a disappointment for the crowd in Birmingham, not far from Alabama where Namath played his college ball. It was billed weeks ago as a battle between Namath and Buffalo's deer-quick O.J. Simpson.

Joe Kapp, another dissatisfied quarterback, was missing from the Minnesota lineup. He wants more money.

Others involved in bitter contract disputes who will stay home are: running back Jim Nance of Boston; receiver Paul Warfield of Miami; All-Pro lineman Alex Karras of Detroit and veteran defensive end George Andrie of Dallas.

Lance Alworth, San Diego's record-cracking receiver, will also be among the missing along with Herb Adderly, Green Bay's trigger-quick defensive wonder. Both have retired, but Alworth has hinted he might reconsider.

Brashaw To Play

Quarterback Terry Bradshaw, Pittsburgh's top draft pick, will "see plenty of work," according to Steelers' Coach Chuck Noll. Either Terry Hanratty or Kent Nix will counter for Miami.

Green Bay and New York clash in their traditional preseason opener with the Packers going after their ninth victory in the series. The Giants have won only once, 15-14 two years ago.

Coach George Allen of Los Angeles said he plans to lead with his veterans, including bomb-throwing Roman Gabriel at quarterback. Cleveland will have Bill Nelson at the controls and high-flying Leroy Kelly at one of the running spots.

Moose Takes Met Medicine, Pirates Boost League Lead

By The Associated Press

There are all kinds of treatments to make ailing pitchers feel better. The tonic for Bob Moose seems to be the New York Mets.

The young Pittsburgh right-hander took a shot of Met medicine Friday night and it tasted every bit as good as it did the previous time he faced them, last September.

He didn't pitch a no-hitter like he did then but he did come up with a four-hit, 6-1 victory in which he showed new signs of the arm trouble that had held him to two starts since June 28.

The complete game victory, fifth in a row for the Pittsburgh pitching staff, shot the Pirates' lead over the Mets in the National League East up to 3 1/2 games.

Break Game Open

Other NL action saw Philadelphia down the Chicago Cubs 4-1, Cincinnati edge Los Angeles 4-2, Houston trounce San Francisco 22-1, St. Louis nip Montreal 2-1 and Atlanta beat San Diego 8-2.

Belted by Montreal last Sunday, Moose was in control all the way against the Mets. New York's run came in the fourth when Bud Harrelson walked, Ken Boswell singled and Harrelson scored on a doubleplay.

Pittsburgh tied the game in the bottom of the fourth, then broke it open with five in the sixth. Willie Stargell hit his 22nd homer, Moose doubled in a run and 5-foot-4 Fred Patek blasted a three-run homer, his first of the season.

Tony Taylor's pinch, two-run single snapped a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning for Philadelphia and dropped the Cubs 5 1/2 games behind Pittsburgh. Billy Williams, who struck as a pinch hitter with the bases loaded in the Cubs ninth, extended his NL record of consecutive games played to 1,093.

Trailing 2-1, Cincinnati came up with three runs in the eighth and opened up a 13-game lead over second-place Los Angeles in the West. Lee May's two-run double was the big blow in the inning.

The Dodgers had taken a 2-0 lead on Tom Haller's two-run homer in the second. Johnny Bench belted his 38th homer for Cincinnati in the fourth.

Doug Rader slammed a three-run homer and John Edwards cracked a two-run triple and an RBI single in Houston's rout of San Francisco.

Gibson Nets 15th

St. Louis scored runs on Joe Torre's single and a wild pitch by Dan McGinn and Bob Gibson fired a five-hitter against Montreal. It was Gibson's 15th victory against five losses and the Cardinals' 10th in 12 games.

Orlando Cepeda's three-run homer, his 25th, and a two-run blast by Hank Aaron, his 32nd, keyed Atlanta's first-game victory over San Diego. Aaron also singled in a run.

San Diego took the nightcap as Al Ferrara drove in two runs with a triple and a single. Ollie Brown singled home two and Clarence Gaston also singled for the Padres.

Campaneris Hits First, But Twins Score Knockout

By The Associated Press

Oakland's Bert Campaneris struck the first blow, but the Minnesota Twins landed the last one ... for another one-punch knockout.

The Twins floored the A's 2-1 Friday night on Jim Holt's lead off home run in the 11th inning as Jim Perry, stung by Campaneris' first-pitch homer at the outset, scattered four more hits to become the first 17-game winner in the majors.

It was the second consecutive sudden-death victory for the Twins, George Mitterwald having beaten California 2-1 Thursday night with a leadoff homer in the 14th, and their ninth triumph in 10 extra-inning games this year.

Elsewhere in the American League, Cleveland tripped Baltimore 10-4; the New York Yankees downed Detroit 5-1; California shaded the Chicago White Sox 6-4; Boston defeated Washington 3-1 and Kansas City swept a two-night twin bill from Milwaukee, 4-0 and 10-2.

Phoebe Chased

Perry, 17-9, stymied Oakland after Campaneris' first inning blast and the Twins bounced back on Rich Reese's second-inning homer off Catfish Hunter before Holt greeted Marcel Lachemann in the 11th with his first game-winning homer.

The victory gave the West Division leaders a 7-1 edge over the A's this season.

The Indians, hitless against Baltimore's Tom Phoebus for 5 2-3 innings, chased him and battered two relievers in a seven-run seventh. Two-run singles by Ted Uhlaender and Graig Nettles keyed the uprising and Uhlaender homered in the eighth.

Airtight relief pitching by Gary Waslewski and Jack Aker propelled the Yankees past Detroit. New York broke a 1-1 tie on a wild pitch by Les Cain in the sixth and added three runs in the eighth, two of them on Bobby Murcer's single.

Jay Johnstone and Roger Repoz homered for the Angels, who severed a 4-4 knot in the eighth on a bases-loaded throwing error by shortstop Luis Aparicio. Bill Voss and Jim Fregosi scored when Aparicio, trying to complete a doubleplay, threw the ball away.

Koonce Wins

Cal Koonce picked up his first victory as a starting pitcher in almost two years with ninth-inning relief help as the Red Sox got past Washington on Carl Yastrzemski's run-scoring single and Tony Conigliaro's RBI double in the sixth.

Cookie Rojas drove in four runs with four singles as the Royals completed their sweep over the Brewers, who have lost five in succession. Rookie Rich Severson's first major league homer, a three-run blast, decided the opener as rookie Bob Johnson and veteran fireballer Ted Abernathy flanked the Brewers on five hits.

'Mini-Bike' Drivers Must Have Licenses On Public Highways

LANSING — Secretary of State James M. Hare, clarifying use of so-called "mini-bikes" on public streets and highways, warned parents of youngsters under 15 years of age that the law forbids these children from riding the little motorcycles on public thoroughfares.

At the same time, Hare cautioned about the operation of "mini-bikes" by older drivers. "Almost all inquiries we receive reveal a widespread public misunderstanding of the laws governing such vehicles," Hare said.

"The confusion apparently exists because the little 'mini-bikes' are largely bought for youngsters as a sort of motorized toy. After parents spend a few hundred dollars on a 'mini-bike,' they are quite disturbed to learn that their offspring cannot ride the vehicle on public streets, highways and other property such as recreation areas.

Not Prohibited
"This situation, in turn, has inspired a popular belief that 'mini-bikes' are, per se, banned from public thoroughfares."

Abolishment Of Rail Firemen Jobs Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential emergency board has recommended railroad firemen's jobs gradually be abolished as a means of settling a long-standing labor dispute.

The White House reports the board called for the phasing out of jobs of most railway firemen. The recommendation would have immediate approval of the White House.

The board said the National Railway Labor Conference, which represents more than 130 railroads with 95 per cent of the nation's track, is on the verge of a settlement with the United Transportation Union which bargains for the firemen.

The settlement would combine the duties of firemen and brakemen under a new job classification acceptable to the railroads and union. No new workers would be classified as firemen but no firemen would be fired. The classification would be eliminated gradually through retirement and death.

The White House said the basis of the proposal were worked out by the union and railroads and "therefore it should provide the basis for a long-term settlement to this old issue."

Under the plan announced by the emergency board, union and management negotiators would consider the proposal for 15 days. If no agreement is reached, outstanding issues would go to binding arbitration.

The White House panel recommended that the money saved through elimination of firemen's jobs be used to raise the pay of rail workers.

At issue in the dispute—which dates almost to the advent of diesel locomotives—are the jobs of firemen who stoked boilers on engines burning coal and wood.

The railroads insist—and the presidential panel agreed—there is no use for firemen on diesel. But the union contends a third man is necessary for safety reasons.

Grand Rapids Eyes Ban In Internal Combustion Units

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — An ordinance that would ban the sale of almost everything that uses internal combustion engines has been submitted to the Grand Rapids City Commission.

The law, proposed by City Commissioner Richard Schwaiger, would make it illegal after Jan. 1, 1975, to sell an "automobile, truck, vehicle, conveyance, stationary engine, power tool, lawn mower or other mechanical contrivance having as a component or source of power an internal combustion engine capable of burning, igniting or in any manner using any petroleum or other hydrocarbon fuel."

Schwaiger, who won his first election last April on an ecology platform, told the commission, "It would not be too difficult for the automobile manufacturers to adapt" a clean-burning engine with at least $50 million that has been appropriated by the federal government for research.

He said the new engine would probably be turbine-driven.

If the ordinance were passed by the city commission, Schwaiger said "it would be the first such action in the nation."

He explained modifications in the ordinance could be made later if needed.

and other public land. They are not prohibited, but both the machine and the driver must conform to the requirements of the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code.

"A 'mini-bike,' despite its small size and power, still is a motor vehicle as defined by the Vehicle Code. It comes under the definition of a motorcycle or motor-driven cycle. If it has less than five gross brake horsepower, it is a motor-driven cycle, which means that it cannot be driven on a limited access highway in Michigan and that it is subject to certain restrictions when ridden at night.

Must Be Equipped
When operated on a public street or highway, a 'mini-bike' must be equipped as required by the laws governing motorcycles or motor-driven cycles. It must be registered with the Department of State and it must bear valid license plates, Hare said.

The drivers of 'mini-bikes' ridden on public thoroughfares must be licensed motor vehicle operators, or have a special restricted permit. If a licensed operator has renewed his license, or received such a license for the first time in Michigan since June 1, 1970, he must also have a special endorsement to operate a motorcycle.

"The law requires that the holder of a regular driver license be 16 years of age, or older," Hare said. "A special restricted license to operate a motor-driven cycle may be issued to 15-year-olds if they prove that they are competent to drive such a vehicle safely and if they have passed a driver education course and examination.

"I urge any youngster holding a restricted motor-driven cycle license to be certain that his vehicle develops less than five gross brake horsepower. Some 'mini-bikes' have more power and fall into the motorcycle category.

Difficult To See
"I want to warn all parents against letting children under 15 years of age ride 'mini-bikes' on any public thoroughfare. The Motor Vehicle Code specifically prohibits any parent or guardian of any child to authorize or knowingly permit such child to violate the laws governing 'mini-bikes'."

"I also caution older drivers against the use of 'mini-bikes' on public thoroughfares, particularly those that carry heavy traffic. The average 'mini-bike' is so small that it cannot be seen easily by automobile drivers and is too slow to keep up with normal traffic speed. It is very dangerous to operate a 'mini-bike' under such conditions."

Detroit Election Procedures Face Senate Quizzing

LANSING (AP) — Contending Detroit election procedures have become "a laughing matter throughout the nation," the Michigan Senate has authorized a committee study of possible irregularities in that city's balloting practices.

A resolution adopted on a voice vote in the Senate Thursday clears the way for the Committee on Municipalities and Elections to look into the situation.

The resolution, sponsored by Sen. Raymond Dzendzel, D-Detroit, said, "the primary election held in the City of Detroit... indicates that there were possibly many irregularities and illegal practices conducted in the election procedures."

In the resolution, Dzendzel, who lost in a bid for renomination in the Democratic State Senate primary, particularly noted the failure of the computer punchcard balloting system to operate successfully and a failure to open polls on time.

Supersonic Jet Noise Rules Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe, in an unusual move keyed to interest in environmental problems, asked the public today to take part in setting engine noise standards for the civilian supersonic transport plane.

Volpe extended the invitation in connection with a Federal Aviation Administration notice of proposed rulemaking. He said the new rules will be aimed at insuring that the new generation of aircraft will be developed in line with the environmental objectives of the department.

Several individuals and groups have voiced concern that the SST would be too loud on the ground and when flying would blast the ground with damaging sonic booms.

TURNABOUT

Folks used to wonder what Grandpa Brown and I had in common. He must have been close to eighty when I was just a kid. But I remember him as one of the best friends I ever had.

He was a wonderful old man, with a simple, native wisdom. We used to go fishing together, and he would talk to me about God and Faith and Love. I remember he said people shouldn't wait until they're in trouble before going to Church. "When you're happy," he told me, "take time out to offer a prayer of thanks."

The Church had acted as a balance for him during good times, and a bulwark during bad times.

Down through the centuries the Church has made great Christians out of unassuming people. They in turn have transmitted the blessings of the Church to oncoming generations. I hope I can bring Grandpa Brown's faith and wisdom to others, as I was impressed by him.

TURN ABOUT

Folks used to wonder what Grandpa Brown and I had in common. He must have been close to eighty when I was just a kid. But I remember him as one of the best friends I ever had.

He was a wonderful old man, with a simple, native wisdom. We used to go fishing together, and he would talk to me about God and Faith and Love. I remember he said people shouldn't wait until they're in trouble before going to Church. "When you're happy," he told me, "take time out to offer a prayer of thanks."

The Church had acted as a balance for him during good times, and a bulwark during bad times.

Down through the centuries the Church has made great Christians out of unassuming people. They in turn have transmitted the blessings of the Church to oncoming generations. I hope I can bring Grandpa Brown's faith and wisdom to others, as I was impressed by him.
